-Astronauts- 7 On Space Team Picked From 110 Americans For Orbit Plan

Washington (AP)—Seven superb young Americans will make up the team which will represent the United States in the drive to put a man into orbit around the earth.

This fact came out Monday. Their names were still kept secret but may be made public soon, possibly later this week.

The 7 will be called Mercury Astronauts, just as America's first manned satellite venture is known as Project Mercury. They're the pick from a squad of 110 carefully selected men, all of them military test pilots and all of them married.

It had been planned to have a team of 12. It was decided to hold the number to 7, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday, to make sure that each man will have a full part in every phase of the task.

Test Flights

These phases include the engineering and scientific development of the space vehicle, test flights at moderate speeds and altitudes building up toward the full scale missions, and the 18,000-mile-an-hour orbiting itself, 100 miles or more above the earth.

The Mercury Astronauts will report to Langley Research Center, Hampton, Va., within a few days to start orbital flight training. The training program probably will last at least two years.

NASA also disclosed that so many of the 110 first-chosen pilots volunteered that the agency never got through its full list of candidates. It said: "It was found unnecessary to contact all."

Volunteers

"Of the first 69 called to Washington to hear the Mercury project outlined, 80% volunteered."

"All were of such high caliber that selection was difficult."

"Through individual interviews and suitability discussions to determine motivation, experience and technical background, a group of 32 was selected to proceed further in the program."

"The 7 Mercury Astronauts will come from this group of 32."

Cold Front Crosses State

A cold front swept across Nebraska Monday night bringing gale force winds and sharply dropping temperatures.

Lincoln's temperature early Tuesday plummeted from 68 to 51 in a matter of minutes as the colder air whistled in on 40 mph winds. About .10 of an inch of rain fell in a brief shower.

Thundershowers accompanied the front but little moisture was reported.

Typical of the temperature spread was a reading of 39 at Alliance while Lincoln, before the front passed, had 72.

Weathermen say the mercury will drop somewhat Tuesday, but it's still expected to remain straw hot with temperatures ranging in the 60s.

Partly cloudy skies are predicted for most of the state.

Monday highs ranged in the high 70s and low 80s over Nebraska, with a top of 83 recorded at Imperial and Chadron. Lincoln hit a high of 80 after a morning low of 48.

Nebraskan Asks Aid To L.A. Park 'Ghost' ... Hermit Native Of North Platte

A 32-year-old Nebraska World War II veteran, disabled in action, who has been living a hermit-like life in Griffith Park in the heart of busy Los Angeles, will be located and will receive help.

Louis Eby, director of Veterans Affairs for Nebraska, reported that he has contacted the Los Angeles Veterans' Service Center, and received their word that they will locate Dennis Farrell, former North Platte resident, who has evidently lived without speaking to another human being for the past 5 years.

"I could not stand the thought of a Nebraska veteran, who was disabled, not receiving the aid which is due him," Eby explained, "so I looked up his record here and notified Los Angeles."

Bizarre Living

Farrell's bizarre manner of living in the 2½-by-2 mile city park came to light last weekend when police captured him after answering a call about a prowler.

Hallingly, he told them of walking into Griffith Park 5 years ago, explaining that, "I thought I'd go up there and die." He related that he has been living on picnickers' scraps and scavenging from garbage cans in nearby residential areas.

Los Angeles police released him after determining that he had broken no laws, and that he did not want their offers of money for clothing and food.

Farrell ... Living in park

He walked back into the park.

Now VA officials and Los Angeles police will attempt to locate Farrell, nicknamed "The Ghost of Griffith Park" by residents who have sighted him infrequently.

When located, Eby said, "he will be given the right treatment in the proper VA facility. We are sure he needs our help and he is entitled to it."

Eby said Los Angeles VA authorities promised to notify Nebraska Veterans Affairs officers when Farrell is found.

The director explained he initiated the move to aid the Nebraska veteran, "because he needs and deserves our help."

The former North Platte GI is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Farrell and attended St. Patrick's High School. He was last seen by his family in April of 1954 when he left North Platte.

New Explosion?

Iraqi Crisis Seen

855 Commie
Troops Sail
To Mideast

By The Associated Press

Egyptian authorities in Port Said reported a Soviet ship with 855 fully armed men of Kurdish origin sailed through the Suez Canal, bound for turbulent Iraq. Such a landing would raise a new and significant Communist threat in the sensitive oil producing areas of the Middle East.

The report passed through the censorship of Egypt, now engaged in a violent propaganda war with Iraq. The sketchy account provided few details. But if the report is true, it could foretell a new cold war explosion over the Middle East.

Observers in Port Said described the armed men aboard the Soviet ship Gruzia (Georgia) as Soviet subjects of Kurdish origin. There are many Kurds in the southernmost regions of the Soviet Union.

The same sources said they believed the Kurds were being shipped to Basra, Iraq's main Persian Gulf port, under a pretext of being repatriated to their country of origin. They would be given Iraqi nationality immediately upon their arrival, possibly for use as soldiers in the armed forces of leftist Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, the sources added.

Foreign Legion

This report follows accounts in the press of the United Arab Republic (Egypt and Syria) that Iraq's Premier Kassem had formed Foreign Legion units to enroll non-Iraqis for a fight against pan-Arab Nationalist followers of the U.A.R.'s leader, President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Such a force also could be used as the nucleus of a Communist-controlled Army for an autonomous Kurdistan inside Iraq. The Kurds, a non-Arab people who make up a sixth of Iraq's population of 6 million, are led by a Communist-trained mullah (priest) named Sheikh Mustafa Barzani. He led an abortive 1946 attempt to set up an autonomous Kurdistan for the Kurdish people inhabiting northern Iraq, western Iran and eastern Turkey. Barzani returned only last summer, after the Iraqi revolution, from 13 years of exile in Moscow.

The Kurds of Iraq idolize Barzani, and he now is considered a powerful figure in Baghdad, where the Communists have been gaining much authority through their support of the Kassem government against Nasser's Arab Nationalists.

12,000 Voters Expected Today

By Virgil Fallow

Less than one in four Lincoln voters, according to pre-election estimates, will go to the polls today in the city primary election.

Election Commissioner Anna M. Evans is predicting a turnout of 12,000 voters. The current city registration totals 32,321 voters.

The 4 primary elections since 1950 have averaged 11,900 voters. The high was 14,719 voters in the 1957 primary and the low was 8,869 in 1955.

Twenty-five candidates are seeking the nominations for mayor, City Council, Wyuka Cemetery trustee, Board of Education, and City Airport Authority.

City polling hours are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the 104 precincts.

Write-Ins Sought

Write-in votes will figure in the nominations for mayor and for cemetery trustee. In both cases the incumbents are unopposed on the ballot.

However, a write-in campaign for B. E. (Pat) Boyles, Lincoln attorney and former deputy election commissioner, to nominate him for mayor, was reportedly gathering strength.

Boyles said he did not know who is behind the effort, but that he would accept a write-in nomination if there were 500 votes or more.

Mayor Bennett Martin is unopposed in the primary for nomination for a second term.

Election officials cautioned voters that write-in votes must also be marked with an X in the box on the ballot to be counted.

May Delay Tabulation

In unopposed races, write-in votes must be counted. Officials said ballot tabulations may be slowed if there is a rash of write-in candidates for mayor and cemetery trustee and final results on write-in votes might not be known until later.

The candidates in the primary:
Mayor — Bennett S. Martin.
City Council — C. O.

David Niven and Susan Hayward are shown at the Academy Award presentations in Hollywood where they won Oscars as the best actor and actress of 1958.

Hayward, Niven Oscar Winners

Burl Ives And Wendy Hiller Win
Best Supporting Star Honors;
'Gigi' Is Top Picture

Hollywood (AP)—Susan Hayward, the condemned Barbara Graham of "I Want to Live," and David Niven, the dishonored Army officer of "Separate Tables," won the 31st Academy Awards Monday night as the best movie star performers of 1958.

Burl Ives, tough old western patriarch of "The Big Country," and Wendy Hiller, lovelorn hotel manager of "Separate Tables," were hailed best supporting players.

"Gigi," the saucy French charmer who learned about love walked off with 9 Oscars including the top one for best picture. It also won for director Vincente Minnelli, screen writer Alan Lerner and the title song by Lerner and Frederick Loewe.

Miss Hayward, the 39-year-old reedhead from Brooklyn who missed in 4 previous nominations, received the news joyously and kissed her husband, Eaton Chalkley.

With tear filled eyes, she dashed to the stage and received a thunderous ovation.

"Thank you very, very much, ladies and gentlemen of the Academy, for making me so very happy," she said. "And my special thanks to Mr. Walter Wanger (the film's producer) who made all this possible."

Niven, Scottish-born veteran of 25 years in films, beamed with happiness at his award. He said:

"I'm so loaded down with good luck charms I could hardly make it to the stage. People have been saying thank you to the Academy for 30 years. I can only add to that—thank you."

"Gigi" won an Oscar for producer Arthur Freed, who once before cracked the traditional barrier against awards for musicals. His other salute to the city of light, "An American in Paris," was named best picture in 1953.

Lerner, already laden with honors for his "My Fair Lady," was a popular winner for best screenplay. His longtime collaborator, Loewe, shared in the best song Oscar.

There seemed to be less enthusiasm for the best original story screenplay award which went to "The Defiant Ones." There was restrained applause as the Oscars were claimed by writers Harold Jacob Smith and Nathan E. Douglas. The latter was once termed an uncooperative witness before a congressional investigation into communism. This year the Academy rescinded its rule against Oscars for uncooperative witnesses.

Other awards included: Best scoring—"Gigi," Andre Previn.

Best achievement in sound—"South Pacific," Fred Hynes, Todd-Ao sound dept.

Best film editing—"Gigi," Andreanne Fazan.

Best special effects—"Tom Thumb," Tom Howard.

Best dramatic or comedy picture music score—"The Old Man And The Sea," Dimitri Tiomkin.

Demos In Michigan Get Lead

... 1st '59 Vote

Detroit (AP)—Democrats and Republicans ran a neck-and-neck race Monday night in contests for education offices in Michigan's biennial spring election. But Democrats took an early lead in judicial contests.

It was the first statewide election this year in the nation.

The big industrial Detroit vote, heavily Democratic, apparently held the clue to the final results as it has done in past years.

Over the election hung the cloud of the state's financial crisis, and the rival parties made much of it in the campaign. Each accused the other of responsibility. Each called for a "protest vote" against the rival party.

Picture Delayed

Slow return of the vote in Detroit delayed a clear statewide picture. Two years ago Democrats got 70% of the Detroit and Wayne County vote. Indications were that it might go to 75% this time.

While the contests for the 12 state education offices remained in doubt after midnight, the two Democratic-endorsed state Supreme Court candidates, incumbents George Edwards and John D. Voelker, took and held early leads.

Committee OKs New 2½% Levy ... Would Raise $600,000 A Year

By Betty Person

A bill placing a 2½% tax on parimutuel betting in Nebraska was unanimously advanced to the floor of the Legislature Monday by the Revenue Committee.

The bill advanced, LB658, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, provides that the first $1 million bet at each track would be tax exempt and that the 2½% tax would be applied to all money bet over that amount.

Revenue from the parimutuel tax, estimated at $600,000 to $700,000 annually based on last year's handle at the state's 8 tracks, would be placed in the state's property tax-supported general fund.

LB658 also was amended to provide that each licensee would be authorized to deduct from the total sum wagered 12½%, as against the 10% the present law provides and the 15% originally sought in the bill.

'Principle'

Sen. Carpenter told the committee he was chiefly interested in "establishing the principle" of taxing horse racing and that "the amount can come with time."

Nebraska is the only state in the union which does not now tax parimutuel betting. By allowing the $1 million exemption, it was believed the bill was one which would be workable for all tracks, both large and small.

Emergency Clause

The committee also voted to add the emergency clause to the bill in order that the tax may be collected during the 1959 racing season, provided it is approved by the Legislature and the governor.

Two other parimutuel bills were killed by the committee: LB's 19 and 604.

Carpenter had introduced LB19 early in the session as a "trial balloon." The second measure, LB604, was introduced by Sens. Hans Jensen of Aurora, Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, Norman Otto of Kearney and Oliver Olinger of Tekamah.

LB604 called for a stiffer tax and would have allocated a large share of the revenue to agricultural research.

Amendment Fails

One committee member attempted to amend LB658 so that $100,000 of the tax funds to be raised would go to agricultural research under the State Department of Agriculture, but the proposed amendment was defeated 3-4.

One other amendment adopted to LB658 provides that the tax commissioner shall verify the amount to be paid into the general fund from each race track.

Sen. Carpenter reported these amounts were bet at the state's 8 tracks in 1958:

Grand Island, $3,370,877; Madison, $861,249; Lincoln (State Fair) $2,888,239; South Sioux City, $2,548,704; Ak-Sar-Ben, $19,701,921; Columbus, $2,228,063; Mitchell, $338,267, and Alliance $283,740.

Junior College Aid OKd

Capitol Environs Purchases Also Win Approval

The Revenue Committee Monday gave 6-1 approval to a bill which would increase the institutional building fund levy, change the formula to include junior colleges, and authorize the purchase of land south of the Capitol.

LB583, introduced by Sens. Don Thompson of McCook, David Tew of Norfolk and Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, calls for a one-tenth mill increase in the special building fund levy, raising the amount to .85 of a mill.

The bill authorizes the setting aside of $150,000 for the Nebraska Trade School at Milford, and changes the formula for the balance of the agencies in these proportions:

University of Nebraska, 39% instead of the present 45%; Board of Control, 18% instead of 20%; State Normal Schools, 18% instead of 20%; Military Department for armory construction would remain at 2%; State Trade School at Milford, stay at 3% after the $150,000 has been offset; 11% for the junior colleges, and change the Capitol building allocation from the present 10% to 9%.

An amendment offered by Sen. Stan Porsche of Lincoln, which the committee adopted, provides that the revenue accruing the Capitol building fund "shall be used to acquire . . . either by gift, purchase or by the power of eminent domain" the following properties south of the Capitol:

The south half of the block between 14th and 15th behind the new Governors Mansion; the entire block between 15th and 16th and H and G, and the north half of the block between 16th and 17th and H and G.

The bill also provides that purchase of the land should be completed by January 1, 1962.

Political Pot Boils As Harr Resigns Post

Aeronautics Chief Drops Hot Battle In R.G.'s Lap

By Don Walton

A fiery political pot of controversy boiled over Monday in the aftermath of a bluntly-worded letter of resignation from State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr to Gov. Ralph Brooks.

The pot had been simmering for weeks awaiting announcement from the governor as to his choice for aeronautics chief.

It had been readily apparent that Harr would go, but no decision had been forthcoming. Then, the aeronautics director decided Monday to beat the administration to the punch with a surprise resignation.

Clarke Steps In

Into the act stepped Rush Clarke of North Platte, special assistant attorney general assigned to the Aeronautics Department; Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck, and Aeronautics Commission member Francis Casey of Plattsmouth.

Harr charged that Brooks had demanded that Clarke be replaced.

Beck, questioned by The Star, said that if the new aeronautics director yet to be named requests that the Commission ask Beck to name a new assistant, he will re-appoint Clarke.

If that is unacceptable, Beck said, he'll name no special assistant and the Aeronautics Department "will have to line up back of whatever officer is waiting and take its turn" in obtaining legal advice and aid from the attorney general's office.

Clarke, appointed by Beck, draws his salary from the Department.

'Got To Go'

Beck said that Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to the governor, had told him some time ago that "Clarke's got to go."

The governor's office, Beck said, had held up two Clarke vouchers for pay and expenses for two months before approving them.

Clarke, the attorney general said, "is virtually solely responsible for the fact that Frontier (Airlines) is here" in Nebraska. "His aggressiveness and skill made it possible," Beck said.

'Great Misfortune'

Clarke termed Harr's resignation "one of the greatest misfortunes to the state of Nebraska in recent years."

He charged that Brooks has been out to "get rid of Rolland Harr and wreck the Aeronautics Department" since the governor took office.

"Fundamentally, I think the governor simply thought he saw a chance to get rid of a Republican," Clarke said.

Clarke, who served as a GOP attorney in gubernatorial contest proceedings, said he had "volunteered to quit if the governor would reappoint Harr but Brooks would not say whether he would do so even if I did quit."

Meanwhile, Casey charged that Harr "is a very poor administrator."

"If anything, Harr's inability to hire people shows his own weakness and lack of administrative ability," Casey, a Brooks appointee to the Commission, charged.

Clarke, he said, "absolutely should have been fired." His fees, Casey said, have been "unconscionable."

Story on Harr resignation on page 17.

Obbink Probable Harr Successor

Jack Obbink of Lincoln, apparently in line to be named state aeronautics director, has an appointment set with Gov. Ralph Brooks this week.

The aeronautics post became vacant Monday when Rolland Harr submitted his resignation to the governor.

Brooks has named only Obbink, a retired Army captain presently affiliated with a Lincoln lumber firm, as a possible successor.

Obbink declined comment Monday night when queried as to whether he has been approached concerning the position since Harr's announcement.

Iverson Last GOP Appointee In Doubt

One to go.

With the resignation Monday of Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr, one major appointive state office remains for a decision as to whether its incumbent official will be retained.

The officer is State Fire Marshall E. C. Iverson.

Iverson said Monday he would not resign pending a final decision by Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Dad Slays 3 Children, Sister, Self

New Haven, Conn. (P) — An unemployed father killed his 3 children and sister with clothesline Monday, tried to strangle his wife, then set his home afire. He died of smoke inhalation.

Firemen rushing into the flaming 3-story home found 5 bodies from the basement to the attic.

The dying father, 47-year-old Kirk Kraus, was found in the blazing attic, where he had set a fire even as his wife raced to a nearby home for refuge.

Downstairs, the husky ex-factory worker—a 200-pound 6-footer—had left his children beaten, their lives snuffed out with rope. His petite sister, Elizabeth, about 50, was found dying.

Blood-Soaked

Neighbors quoted his wife, Frances, as saying she arrived home from work and was met by her blood-soaked husband, who said:

"Our worries are over. The children are dead."

Then he began to beat her and tried to wrap a rope around her neck. She fled to the home of neighbors and later was hospitalized.

Police said all 3 children had been strangled with clothesline.

They were Linda, 12, Donald, 9, and Richard, 8.

A New Gavel For The Judge

Lancaster District Judge Paul W. White was left this king-sized "gavel"—a 12-pound sledge hammer—by an unknown citizen who sympathized with the judge for having his regular wooden gavel stolen recently. The judge, shown here examining the sledge, also was pondering this unsigned poem which was left with the sledge: Until the mystery you unravel, and find the thief who stole your gavel, with this hammer you can rule your forum, and pound the bench to keep decorum, strike the bar and lawyers will quake, strike it hard and the courthouse will shake. ## Urban Revolt Blamed For GOP 1958 Setback

Washington (P)—Research experts of the Republican National Committee have concluded that the GOP setback in the 1958 elections was due largely to what they call an urban revolt.

"The reaction against Republicans was manifested particularly (though by no means exclusively) in areas of heavy unemployment," says an analysis of the returns prepared by the committee for party workers and legislators.

Basing their study largely on results of House races, William B. Prendergast, associate research director, and Stephen D. Pfeleiderer, his assistant, said Republican vote losses were more pronounced west of the Mississippi than in the east, and greater among big city dwellers than among suburbanites and farmers.

In 17 big cities, excluding New York, the study shows the GOP congressional vote dropped 17% compared with 1954. In 12 suburban areas it increased 18%, but the Democratic vote picked up 39% in these areas. The GOP vote decreased 8.2% in 197 farm counties in 13 states.

The study shows the decrease in the Republican percentage of the total vote in 17 large northern cities was 6.8 points. This was well above the national GOP decline of 3.5 percentage points and the drop of 4 points in 39 non-southern states.

New York City, resisting the general tide, showed a slight increase of 1.6% in the Republican ratio to the total vote, although the GOP percentage there was still only 37.1.

Reformatory Escapee Uses Red Tractor For Getaway

An inmate of the State Reformatory escaped Monday afternoon driving a red tractor.

The man, Lawrence Thompson, 31, disappeared during a work detail in which he was hauling fertilizer between the reformatory and adjacent fields.

A red trailer attached to the tractor when Thompson escaped was found shortly before 6 p.m. by State Highway Patrolmen 4 miles south and 2 miles east of Denton.

Followed Tracks

They later followed the tractor tracks to a point 16 miles west and 3 south of Lincoln. There the trail disappeared.

A Reformatory spokesman said Thompson arrived at the institution Jan. 8, after being sentenced for forgery in Nebraska City. A native of Shenandoah, Ia., he reportedly has a wife living in Tarkio, Mo.

The Highway Patrol said Thompson escaped some time between noon and 4 p.m., while the Reformatory spokesman timed his departure "before 4, but how much before we don't know."

The escapee was described as being 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weighing 170, having dark brown hair and eyes, and wearing a blue shirt and overall trousers.

Russians Open Travel Routes

Moscow (P) — Diplomatic sources said the Soviet Union is reopening more of the travel routes it closed to foreigners last week.

Two Americans and one Briton are heading for the northern port of Archangel Tuesday and one or two other members of the U. S. Embassy staff may go to Archangel Wednesday after delayed approval of their applications.

Other American Embassy personnel have been granted permission to visit Tashkent in Soviet Asia, another of the areas closed for a time.

Mrs. Cousins, who lived at 1637 G, was the widow of Dr. Ward Cousins. She had lived in Lincoln since 1899, when her father, Charles E. Hicks, was elected to the Nebraska legislature.

Mrs. Cousins was the daughter of a pioneer family which settled in Webster County, Nebraska. She attended school in Bladen, Neb., and graduated from the Conservatory of Music in Lincoln.

Surviving are a brother, Prof. Clifford M. Hicks, chairman of the Dept. of Business Organization at the University of Nebraska; and two nieces, Mrs. Lloyd Reed of San Carlos, Calif., and Mrs. Charles Steward of Portland, Ore.

Burial will be Wyuka Cemetery.

Price-Cut Retailers Protected

... High Court Rules

Washington — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that anti-trust laws protect a price-cutting retailer against boycotting by manufacturers and distributors acting with a competing retailer.

The ruling reinstated a suit for treble damages brought by Klor's, Inc., owner of an appliance store in San Francisco.

The suit named as defendants Klor's next door competitor, Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc., 10 manufacturers of radio and TV sets and household appliances, and 8 distributors.

Klor contended Broadway-Hale got concessions from the manufacturers and distributors, but that Klor wasn't given the same concessions.

The suit was dismissed in San Francisco federal District Court on the ground it was a purely private quarrel between Klor's and Broadway-Hale. The District Court said this did not amount to a public wrong forbidden by the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco upheld the dismissal, saying there was no showing of public injury.

2 Lincolnites Hurt In Omaha

Omaha (P) — Four persons, including two from Lincoln, were injured and a 1959 model car was badly damaged in an accident at 78th and Dodge streets Monday.

Treated and released from Douglas County hospital were: Walter S. Coffey, 28, Lincoln, cut left hip and leg; Joseph R. Voyles, 28, Lincoln, neck and right ankle injured; Jerry F. Reed, 56, Omaha, cut nose, and Thomas Armstrong, 51, Omaha, cut hand.

Coffey and Voyles, sales agents for an auto dealer, were driving the dealer's car to Omaha on business when they halted at the intersection and their car was struck from the rear by one driven by Reed, police said.

Visit Planned

London (P)—West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was reported planning an early visit to London. The report coincided with a rumor in western diplomatic circles of a rift between Adenauer and Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan.

Press dispatches said Adenauer told Macmillan by letter of his proposed visit. A Foreign spokesman commented:

"We hope Dr. Adenauer will visit London but no date has yet been fixed." No other details were available.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful typically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Twin Boy Babies Pay Off At 10-1

Traverse City, Mich. (P) — High school teacher David Murray II and his wife won their 10-1 bet and will collect $1,000. They had twins—again.

Mrs. Murray gave birth of twin sons, Lloyds of London had insured the Murrays against such a happening for a $100 premium last November.

The Murrays have two other sets of twins, all 4 of them boys, aged 3½ and 4½.

Christopher Howell weighed in at 5 pounds 8½ ounces and Evan Douglas at 5 pounds 4½ ounces.

Fires Burn Big Area

Central Part Of State Hit

By The Associated Press

Two large prairie fires lashed by strong south winds burned over a total of approximately 4 sections of grazing land in north central Nebraska Monday.

Two smaller fires also were extinguished during the day.

Rural fire departments from a half dozen communities and several hundred volunteers battled the flames with wet blankets, gunnysacks and some even stripped off their shirts to beat down the racing tongues of flames.

The two big fires were located northwest of Greeley and southwest of Chambers, Neb., respectively.

650 Acres Burn

The more stubborn of the two blazes, burned over about 650 acres on the Wolf brothers ranch 15 miles south of Chambers. This ranch lies partly in Wheeler County and partly in Holt.

The fire started near the west home buildings, and spread northward across the Holt County line.

Fire departments from as far south as Burwell and as far north as O'Neill answered the call for volunteers with 8 trucks and some 300 volunteers.

The other major blaze started at the northwest edge of Greeley and ranged northward through hilly grazing country for about 2 miles, cutting a swath about one mile wide.

Observers said the fire took only grassland, no hay or buildings. Fire departments from Greeley, Scotia, St. Paul, Spalding fought this blaze for about 3 hours.

There also were two smaller fires near Chambers, Neb., but neither caused extensive damage.

Only 6 Young Escapees Are Still At Large

Jessups, Md. (P)—Police had captured all but 6 of the 34 young inmates who overpowered two guards and escaped from the Patuxent Institution for Mental Delinquents.

It was the largest prison break in Maryland history.

In ones and twos, sometimes more, the fugitives were picked up by an estimated 300 state troopers, county police, National Guardsmen and U. S. Marines making a massive air-ground search under the direction of Maj. William H. Weber, state police executive officer.

Unicam 'Get-Tough' Policy Seen Toward Money Bills

... As Lawmakers Drag Heels On 3 Measures

By Betty Person

Nebraska senators indicated Monday they are going to take a long, hard look at every bill requiring an additional expenditure over and above that proposed in the preliminary budget bill.

While approval was given 3 measures which are so-called money bills (one of which was up for final passage), the lawmakers indicated in one way or another that they're going to question additional expenditures.

The first measure was LB432 on final reading which authorize a $150 a month increase in the salary of the assistant clerk of the Legislature. The bill had the emergency clause which requires 29 votes. The measure could muster only 25 ayes, and received 18 nays, which meant the emergency clause was stricken.

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks will appear before the Legislature at 10 Tuesday morning to address the lawmakers on the money bills. He asked for permission Monday to do so and it was granted.

On the second go-around, the same votes held firm, so the salary increase will not go into effect until 3 months after the Legislature adjourns.

When the Legislature arrived at consideration of bills on general file, first floor test, approval finally was given to LB76 which calls for a deficit appropriation of $15,000 for the Railway Commission.

Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, chairman of the Budget Committee which pared down the original request from the Commission for $49,507 in a deficit appropriation, told the Legislature the committee was "not friendly" to deficit spending requests.

"Not Good Principle"

"It's not a good principle to allow an agency to overspend the last 6 months," Liebers said, "but there seems to be some need in this instance."

He explained that a bumper crop has greatly increased the work for the Commission's grain warehouse inspection department necessitating the addition of 3 men.

A complete audit of the Railway Commission's accounts, Liebers said, indicated that the total readjusted deficit of the agency by June 30 would be $14,372.

Another salary bill under scrutiny was the $3,000 annual stipend requested for Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney who now receives $1,744.18.

Kill Move Fails

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rivington City moved to kill the bill to "test the air" on additional expenditures, but the move failed 9-28. The measure, LB-639, also carries the emergency clause, indicating it will have to pick up one more vote before it can be passed in its present form.

No action was taken on the controversial LB51, tax penalty bill which is on select file and which was scheduled for consideration again Monday.

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City asked that the measure be held for consideration Tuesday because Sens. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff and Michael Russell of Omaha were working on amendments to the measure which would make it palatable to everyone.

AT&T Hits $250 A Share

New York (P) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. stock hit $250 a share on the New York Stock Exchange Monday. It closed at that point, up $3.25 for the day.

The price of this "blue chip" has been moving ahead sharply in recent sessions. It advanced $5.87 last week. Stockholders convene April 15 to vote on a proposal to split the stock on a 3-for-1 basis.

All-time high for AT&T was $310.25 in 1929. It sold as low as $69.75 in 1932, at the bottom of the great depression.

The rest of the stock market closed mixed.

Job Picture Gain Said Best In Years

U.S. Over-All Economy Is At New High . . . President Advised

Washington (P) — The government said Monday night that March improvement in the nation's job picture was the best in years. The over-all economy was reported to have registered a new high during first quarter 1959.

President Eisenhower and his Commerce and Labor cabinet members issued a series of glowing predictions promising that data to be issued in a day or two will demonstrate business is even better than had been anticipated.

Eisenhower started out the round of happy predictions. He promised a new jobs report Tuesday will be gratifying and hinted at a substantial cut in unemployment.

Unprecedented
Then, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, who had given Eisenhower an advance fill-in on the March job figures, arranged for a Labor Department aide to put out the job data Tuesday at an unprecedented news conference.

Finally, Secretary of Commerce Lewis Strauss issued a statement Monday night saying the job figures "will show a more than seasonal drop in unemployment and a substantial rise in employment—actually the best improvement figures between February and March in years."

The guessing was that employment will increase by about 500,000 jobs, with unemployment declining around 300,000 to 400,000. This would still leave unemployment well above the 4-million mark, however.

The latest previous unemployment figure was 4,749,000 for February when 62,722,000 were employed.

Changes In Recent Years
The history of changes in unemployment between February and March for the past decade has been as follows: Down 93,000 in 1949, down 486,000 in 1950, down 220,000 in 1951, down 320,000 in 1952, down 134,000 in 1953, up 58,000 in 1954, down 257,000 in 1955, down 11,000 in 1956, down 239,000 in 1957, and up 25,000 in 1958.

10th St. No-Parking Switch Gets Approval

By Virgil Falloon

The City Council Monday adopted a resolution, subject to federal approval, to switch the parking on 10th between O and P to the east side of the street.

The no-parking ban was imposed on the east when the street was resurfaced with federal-aid funds about 7 months ago.

Affected business property owners requested that parking be restored. Post Office officials have informed the city no objection would be made to the proposed switching of the no-parking ban to the west side.

Atty. Lloyd J. Marti, who represented the business owners, said the State Highway Dept. and Federal Bureau of Roads have indicated they would approve the change-over in the parking ban.

LT&T Gets OK

In other action, the Council granted the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. the use of a 10-foot wide strip of city property along the west side of 15th.

The company will pay $300 a year for use of the 10-by-140 foot strip. The city grant is revocable at the discretion of the Council.

City engineering and traffic officials recommended that the company be permitted to widen their proposed driveway for drive-in windows in the new telephone building at 15th and M.

A planter-divider between the drive and the sidewalk will be installed by the company.

The Council referred to the sidewalk inspector a petition requesting that sidewalks be installed on Francis and Aylesworth between 56th and 60th for protection of children going to Brownell School.

No ordinances were up for final reading, but two were introduced on first reading.

They were:

—Proposed heavy industry zoning for a small tract of land near the Cornhusker Hwy. and adjoining the Chicago & Northwestern railroad tracks.

—Proposed vacation of W from 70th to Northborough La. and two east-west alleys.

All Council members were present for the regular meeting except Councilman C. W. D. Kinsey.

48th-Walker Sale Of City Land Studied

The City Council has turned the proposed sale of the city-owned 48th and Walker property over to its real estate committee for further study and recommendation.

No bids on the property were received last week. It is considered surplus city property, but is valued at $35,000 as a business site.

The committee is to study whether a negotiated sale or an auction might be a better approach in disposing of the quarter-block tract.

The Council also authorized that a professional survey be made of the condition and repairs needs of the cornice stone on City Hall.

No money is available for repair work, but the Council said a full report and recommendation should be available at budget time.

Building Supt. Charles Sacl said he didn't believe there was any immediate danger of more falling stone, but that the situation should be considered.

A guard rail around the danger area has been installed.

Nursery Stock Buyers Cautioned

State Entomologist C. J. Walstrom said Monday that purchasers of nursery stock should be certain they buy stock which has been inspected and certified free of insect pests and plant diseases.

Nebraska law makes it mandatory that all nursery stock offered for sale or transported in the state carry a valid inspection certificate.

The inspection protects the buyer by insuring him of good clean nursery stock and prevents the introduction and spread of insect pests and plant diseases, Walstrom said.

Walstrom said the 1958-59 list of inspected nurserymen, dealers and florists has been prepared and may be had on request.

Right-Of-Way Generosity Plea Softened

The Legislature Monday toned down a resolution directing the Department of Roads to be a bit more liberal in compensating landowners for Interstate Highway right-of-way taken from them, then passed the resolution 23-10.

Twenty-two votes were the minimum required.

As originally introduced by Sen. John Munnely of Omaha, the Resolution 24, a accused the Highway Department of ignoring certain indirect damages such as loss of access to other property in paying for land taken for the Interstate Highway.

As amended, the resolution said there is "some question" as to the department's policies in this respect. The amended resolution states it to be a policy of the state to "allow adequate and just compensation in negotiations and before condemnation proceedings are commenced."

Sen. Don Thompson of McCook said his amendment made the resolution acceptable.

Robert Proudfit Dies In California

Robert W. Proudfit, 66, a former Nebraska resident, died in Los Angeles, Calif. He was buried in the Inglewood Park Cemetery there.

Born Nov. 1, 1892, in Friend, Neb., he graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Law in 1917.

He was a captain in World War I, and was discharged in 1919, moving soon afterwards to Los Angeles.

He was admitted to the California Bar in 1922, and the following year was employed by the law firm of Swanwick and Donnelly, later becoming a member of the firm.

Survivors include his wife, Rita of Los Angeles; and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Rosens of Lincoln and Mrs. Winifred McWilliams of Altadena, Calif.

LHS 'Joy Night' April 16-18

Lincoln High School will present its annual variety show "Joy Night" at the school's auditorium Apr. 16-18 beginning at 8 p.m.

Some 20 acts will be featured in the program.

Proceeds from the program will go into the student activity fund.

Olney New Trial Ruling Wednesday

Lancaster District Judge Paul White said he will rule Wednesday on whether John E. Olney of 1301 Piedmont should have a new motor vehicle homicide trial.

Olney, 18, was convicted of the charge March 25 in connection with the death last Oct. 6 of Constance Lane, 17, of 2252 Smith. She was a passenger in his car when it rolled over on a county road south of Lincoln.

Following the jury's guilty verdict defense, Atty. Robert Crosby filed a motion for a new trial.

If Judge White denies the request he is expected to defer sentencing pending an investigation of the case by the Adult Probation Office. Possible penalties range from probation to a 10-year prison term.

Solons Pass Bill Banning Auto Doodads

A bill prohibiting dangling doodads from auto mirrors or anything else which may interfere with fore and aft vision was given final approval 42-0 Monday by the State Legislature.

The bill, LB439, introduced by Sens. David D. Tews of Norfolk and Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, also prescribes a fine of $10 to $25 for violations. Only official stickers on windshields and rear windows are allowed by the bill, which will now be sent to the governor for signature.

Seven other bills passed on final reading (E)—Emergency clause:

LB 238 (Cooper, Marvel)—Exempts disabled veterans of any war from fishing and game license fees except for hunting deer or antelope, and permits them to hunt or fish from automobiles. (E) 42-0.

LB 271 (Jensen, Stryker, Thompson, Carpenter, Burbach, Erling, Clausen, Moulton, Dinger, Liebers, Waldo, McHuz, Cooper, Ruhnke)—Amends certain sections of law to redesignate soil conservation districts as soil and water conservation districts, allows such districts to mortgage property and enter into contracts, and provides that the same method may be used for dissolution as for formation of districts. 42-0.

LB 347 (Klauer)—Increases fees for copies of documents obtained from the State Health Department's Division of Vital Statistics and revises certain recording procedures. (E) 42-0.

LB 354 (Carpenter, Tews, Munnely)—Extending to Douglas County the right to employ a real estate and personal property classification and reappraisal committee, and providing for revising tax rolls to take into account land accretion and losses resulting from stream action. (E) 36-6.

LB 361 (Carpenter)—Provides for uniform fees of a flat $5 a warehouse for warehouse licenses. 42-0.

LB 372 (Tews, Aulenkamp, Portache)—Increases the salary of the first assistant clerk of the Legislature (Francis V. Robinson of Ashland) from $650 to $900 a month. 25-18.

LB 381 (Simmons)—Eliminates a provision requiring a petition of 10 freeholders before a county board may employ additional counsel in civil matters. 36-4.

200 Expected At Regional Girl Scout Meeting Today

More than 200 men and women are expected to attend an annual meeting of presidents, vice presidents and executive directors of Girl Scout councils, Region 8, at the Cornhusker Hotel Tuesday and Wednesday.

Representatives to the meeting will come from Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Purpose of the meeting is to give direction to the development of national planning leading to the national council meeting to be held in St. Louis in 1960.

The meeting is one of 12 such meetings held in the various Girl Scout regions in the United States this spring.

Nationwide Study

Margery Lawrence of New York City, a member of the Program Department of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will report at Tuesday's agenda on the findings and implications of a recent nationwide program study conducted by the national organization.

Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel of Lincoln, a member of the National Board and the National Executive Committee of the GS, will conduct a session on the strengthening of community relations Tuesday evening.

The Girl Scouts of Lincoln is headed by Mrs. Fred Davie, president, and Gretta Hagemann, executive director.

A 2-day meeting of Region 8 Girl Scout professional workers was concluded Monday at the Cornhusker.

Paul Ireland of Independence, Mo., volunteer member of the Girl Scout's Pioneer Trails council, told the assembly a "Girl Scout director is basically a business executive and not a social worker."

Vision Of Greatness

He said Girl Scout professional workers should have a "habitual vision of greatness and a dedication to the concept of excellence."

Another highlight of Monday's meeting was a workshop on professional development, conducted by Mrs. Minnie S. Segat, director, Personnel Services Division of the National Headquarters of G.S.

Approximately 80 professionals attended the meeting designed to discuss ways of work and regional and national trends.

Quinn Appointed To National Post

Lincoln Star Special

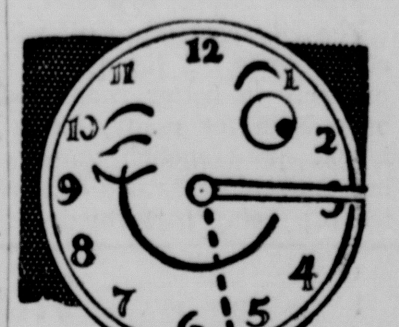

Washington — Rep. Overton Brooks of Louisiana, president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, announced Monday the appointment of John B. Quinn of Lincoln as one of the 28 national directors of the congress.

Quinn has accepted an invitation of the NR&HC to be one of 12 representatives of the congress to attend ceremonies at Montreal and Quebec, Canada, for the dedication of the St. Lawrence Seaway June 26.

Election Day

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Thousands of Lincoln citizens will be heading this morning for their election places to cast a vote in five different local races. But don't let the term "thousands" fool you. It sounds a lot bigger than it will probably be. There were thousands at the last city election but it still turned out to be only about 16 per cent of the eligible voters.

An election cannot go by, of course, without some urging of voters to exercise their rights and take at least this much of a part in governmental affairs. This year, it seems, the voters have an unusually good choice of candidates from which to choose. In the important race for City Council, there are at least six good candidates, possibly seven. The candidates represent, in part, the issue of Council representation. At least two of these candidates are running with the expressed purpose of providing more diversified representation.

How much of an issue this will be with the voters may be known Tuesday evening. It is not a new kind of cry in city affairs but has failed in the past to make a significant difference in the election outcome. Suburban candidates or candidates running on what might be called a representation platform have failed to gain election.

Some of them have come close but one vote difference is as good as a hundred when it comes to gaining public office. A little unusual in this election is the fact that there are no burning issues for the voters to decide upon in their choice of candidates.

The city certainly isn't without its share of problems but the affairs of Lincoln are probably in better shape today than they have been for many, many years. There is not quite enough money for anything, but the real essentials of government service are being performed.

What is lacking is any major public concern such as complete lack of adequate utilities or street programs. This could well be the cause of an unusually light turnout of voters. It also makes it a little difficult to explain the high number of good candidates on the ballot. It generally takes more of an issue to get such quality on the ballot.

Unusual conditions have also contributed to what might be classed as an outstanding group of candidates for the School Board. There are nine people seeking the four nominations to the two vacancies on the board. There is probably more of an issue here than in the City Council contest.

It is safe to assume that sometime during the terms of the two people elected this summer to the board, the people of Lincoln will have to face the problem of another school bond issue. Thus, there is a financial issue here, although no one is specifically running against any more bond issues.

Also, the problems of education are in the forefront of public affairs today to an extent probably never before equaled. Not just school buildings, but the academic program and the quality of teachers are subjects being discussed among many families and groups. But probably contributing more to the quality and quantity on the school ballot was the fact that the two board vacancies appeared to be going begging near the filing deadline. At the last minute, a number of people stepped into the race, at least partly to make sure that enough people would run to fill the openings.

And voters find another good slate of candidates in the race for the single vacancy on the Airport Authority, with perhaps a new airport being the only real issue. The hope is that voters take advantage of this entire situation and make Tuesday's nominees really representative of an expression of the people.

Last-Minute Filings

The Uncertain Public

Newsman, commentators and Presidential Secretary Jim Hagerty spent a part of Sunday publicly endeavoring to find the answer to a very real question—Is the American public getting the information it needs?

The conference illuminated the question, but it neither answered it nor successfully laid the blame for a public state of mind that is more disturbed than informed.

The same day brought a statement from the commander of the country's air power asserting that SAC needs more aircraft and missiles, and quickly, lest the United States lose the strength to deter Russia from war. And he should know. But his advice contrasted with recent statements of Defense Chief Neil McElroy and a budget minded administration. And they should know.

The example is not an isolated one. The attentive public is not so lacking in what authoritative spokesmen say as it is bemused by their lack of agreement.

Meantime, the newsmen pointed out that the public is getting infinitely more news than it used to get about public concerns, but they were asked, what kind of news, and also were they intelligent enough to give it the proper editing? The public itself was spared criticism although it is true that not all of the public makes an effort to face up to the grave national problems of the times.

Perhaps the answer to the dilemma is not to be found in the culpability of any one agency or group but rather in the inertia of the human mind to adjust to rapidly changing conditions. In this critical time very little that was reliably true yesterday is true today and world information that was factual last year has little validity this year. The world which was once so seemingly well ordered has turned into a frog pond.

But it is still true that basic conditions of right or wrong, of freedom or captivity, of progress by humane enlightenment or movement by ruthless force remain unchanged. The concern of the day is not in principles nor in intent, but in anxiety over whether what we are doing is the effective thing. The American people are not as bemused as the headlines would indicate.

Air Director Quits

There will be mixed feelings over the state in the matter of the resignation of Rolland Harr, State Director of Aeronautics.

With some acerbity Harr moved to end the uncertainty surrounding his continuing regime. His sharply worded note of resignation notified Governor R. G. Brooks that the department program is at a standstill with a technically trained staff that is beginning to crumble. He also implied that the state's recently inaugurated air service could be a casualty from what he described as the governor's indecision.

The governor accepted Harr's resignation with a minimum of comment. He reiterated that he is not contemplating any change in the department inimical to advancing the Nebraska air program.

In contrast to this flare-up is a record of the aeronautics administration which did not figure as an issue of widespread importance, if at all, in last fall's election campaign. There is evidence that the commission over a number of years, and Harr in his more than two years as director, made acceptable progress. But as far as the public is concerned the air program was a delegated one and it was assumed to be in prudent hands. The current controversy finds the bulk of the public too casually informed to be fervent partisans.

Giving due weight to the director's impatience with the governor it is going too far to see in this issue the life or death of that part of the program in which Nebraska is most keenly interested at this time, namely, the newly established air network. The department did a fine piece of work in getting it established. But the life or death of the venture rests now less on the shoulders of the department than it does upon the performance of the communities which are receiving the service. If they cannot give it the patronage it must have the service will not prosper. The pivotal decision therefore is neither in the office of the governor or the commission but out where the planes land and take off.

Tied-Up Tax Money

The discussion by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, chairman of the Legislature's Budget Committee, or the use of special levies is an interesting one. What Sen. Liebers seems to be advancing is more widespread use of the special levy. The special levy approach has both good and bad points.

The move by Sen. Liebers would seem to be an improvement in some respects, depending upon how far he intends to go with it. The special levy, such as the .75 mill institutional building fund levy, is advantageous in that it permits better planning. It guarantees a fixed amount of income over a period of years so that programs can be made and carried out.

Its main disadvantage is that it can often work to the disadvantage of other areas. The special levies must be figured in with the total budget and the total tax load. If the special levies bring the total levy up substantially, the levy for other purposes is likely to suffer. Such a special levy tends to fix the income of one department or agency while leaving other departments free for budget slicing.

The situation does not always guarantee the allocation of funds to the area of greatest need. It is a good way to get a particular job done but of questionable merit on an over-all basis. What Sen. Liebers is suggesting is an expanded use of the special levy to include perhaps all state business under a small number of separate categories.

This might be of assistance in breaking down the tax load for easier study and analysis. It would seem, however, to be little more than a budget refinement. It might actually be an elimination, for all practical purposes, of the special levy approach and that is not a bad idea.

Industry Lobbyist Close To President

WASHINGTON — Behind President Eisenhower's firm refusal to liberalize the unemployment aid program has been the quiet lobbying of big business Representative Stanley Rector who operates very adroitly through the back door of the White House.

His inside contact man is none other than the President's chief counsel, Gerald Morgan, whose former law firm helped Rector fight federal unemployment insurance. Now Morgan is carrying on the same fight from the vantage point of the President's elbow.

Rector works out of a three-room suite in the Washington hotel, just around the block from the White House. Last year he spent over $100,000 lobbying against jobless benefits.

His board of directors includes executives from U.S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear Tire and Rubber, Socony Mobil Manufacturing Co. Over 500 companies contribute from $200 to $2,500 apiece to Rector's operation.

In 1947, Rector hired Morgan's law firm, Morgan and Calhoun, as registered lobbyists. After Morgan entered the White House, he served as adviser to the President on unemployment compensation. As recently as last month, Morgan helped persuade Ike to reject liberal recommendations from Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

What Mitchell wanted to do was extend temporary benefits for jobless workers and overhaul unemployment insurance standards. In the showdown, the President sided with Morgan.

Earlier, lobbyist Rector argued against these proposals in a letter, dated March 9, to his backers. He contended that any reforms should be left up to the states.

"There are 46 state legislatures meeting now or in the near future. Practically every one of them has pending unemployment compensation measures."

Three days later, President Eisenhower used the same, identical argument at a press conference. He called the program a "state responsibility" and added: "we are waiting for the legislatures to come into session, which they are this year."

California's Brown White House Minded

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—A few short months have convinced California Democrats that their new governor, Edmund C. (Pat) Brown, takes himself seriously as a dark-horse candidate for president. Here at least, key figures are falling in line with great rapidity and even some optimism. This puts the California primary off limits to other candidates unless they are willing to take the risks involved in a battle royal with Brown. Lacking a victory in one of the few big states where the privilege of presidential preference voting exists in advance of the convention, it seems unlikely that any candidate can reach Los Angeles next July with a commanding lead.

Significantly, Brown has aggressively attacked proposals to abolish the direct presidential primary here. Such a proposal is before the state Legislature and on the Senate floor for rollcall. The governor says the election laws need reform in the direction of broadening of democratic processes, not curtailing them.

It was never likely that the 35 Democratic governors would sit by idly while the front-running senators preempted the national ticket. Brown is only the first of a number who intend to make clear their command of their state delegations.

What remains to be seen is, whether any sensational aspirant will go for broke in an effort to break up a coalition of governors before it can form.

Massachusetts Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts are understood to be taking a poll of his chances in a primary against Brown. Senator Humphrey of Minnesota will speak this month in San Francisco and Los Angeles and dine here with the governor. Adlai Stevenson's alter ego, William M. Blair, has just spent a social week end in the state with old allies. They put it gently that they are now convinced Stevenson is available.

Another busy visitor is former President Harry Truman, who hopes to be the honest broker of an open convention. It is not improbable that he, too, will discover that many Democrats think the party belongs to the people who now hold elective office in it.

Brown's own change of pace and attitude has been the major factor in a changed feeling about his potentialities and ambition. He was always a careful, agreeable and industrious politician. Now, with a million plurality under his belt, he has been bold and decisive to a degree that, to use the old phrase, has astonished his enemies and delighted his friends.

Like Governor Rockefeller in New York, he has grasped the tax nettle—and is having the same trouble about it with a legislature controlled by his own party. Rockefeller prevailed without much blood-letting. Brown starts next week with a speech-making sweep through the state in an effort to line up public support for his program.

With excellent staff appointments he won early praise from the predominantly Republican press of the state. It has stayed with him to a degree which bemuses Democrats.

There is some evidence that the state party has not been able to make the transition from vocal minority without administrative responsibility to a majority which has both power and responsibility. Some senior members of the legislature have old alliances with Republicans which put Democratic policy and the governor at a disadvantage. Copyright, 1959, by U.F. Syndicate, Inc.

Patchwork Prairie Country

All the little whirligigs of snow that had mingled with the dust of topsoil from the last blizzard have disappeared. The fields hold in their embrace all the living hopes of those who till the soil. It's a new season, a new month of shy beginnings . . . April. It's also a season for looking forward to May, days of soft rain and warm sunshine over a waiting countryside. Perhaps no one rejoices at the coming of April more than a man who turns the mellow earth into furrows and feels a kinship with earth and all growing things.

Have you ever noticed that April likes yellow trimming on her finery? When winter's on the wane, she tucks sprigs of sweet forsythia along the garden fence. Daffodils skip along the walk with a gentle breeze. Perky dandelions surprise themselves as they move in scintillating rhythm across a lawn. Goldfinch echo the tunes that April begins but never quite finishes as she hurries down a country lane. Dainty buttercups keep yellow in the decor when the dandelions go . . .

All the kite-flying brigade were assembled on a vacant lot on the outskirts of our town. Kites like gaily flying butterflies fluttered overhead. One young lad sedately paraded back and forth in front of his friends with his hands in his pockets. Around his neck was attached the string of his kite. There always has to be one wise guy in the bunch. We laughed in spite of ourselves.

A farm sale the past winter paid big dividends for The Farmer in the form of a 12-foot combine. It was only recently that he brought it home. I am certain that Casey Jones at the throttle of his machine could not have beamed a broader grin than The Farmer as he roared into the yard. The six-foot pull type combine standing alongside it looks like something from the horse-and-buggy era. Farm machinery rapidly becomes outmoded just as the tools of other laborers become obsolete.

I have just finished reading the book, "A Man Had Tall Sons" by Martha Ostenso. It proved to be a very entertaining book and not a common run-of-the-mill variety. The time is fast approaching when my reading will come to an end. Always I have a few misgivings for I never get to read all the books I set out to complete. Each winter season seems to grow shorter.

Even so, I always feel the richer for reading my scant number and am reluctant to close the cover. It seems as if I am saying farewell to old friends.

Garden plans are past the blueprint stage and a winter of thumbing through the seed catalogs has come to an end. If we have nothing more in ours, there will be tender green onions, for I have two pounds of sets waiting to be put into the ground when the proper time comes. There are peas and radishes that should go into the ground, too.

Although I vowed to cut the size of this year's garden in half, I find myself adding to the growing list. As it stands now, I will have everything I had last year except cucumbers, squash and pumpkins. Looking over the list, I know of nothing I can eliminate except Swiss chard and spinach which The Farmer doesn't relish. I have likewise decided the only way of getting rid of my green thumb is to dip it in some left-over Easter egg dye.

Pros And Cons

Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter on April 1, a "C. B." lists seven disadvantages of the proposed license examinations and six ways he proposes to do a better job without these disadvantages. All his arguments are based on one bold premise which he has failed to prove—that those persons who cause accidents will be permitted to continue to roam the highways and that competent drivers will be penalized. Each of his arguments can be disproved by simple logic.

(1) Those who cause the accidents (ages 18-25) will not be stopped. This implies one of two things: either examining officers will show biased and universal partiality towards the incompetent, or the incompetent driver will be eliminated, which assumes that the other driver, not those between 18 and 25, is to blame for the accident.

(2) Persons who have never had a serious accident would fail the tests through nervousness. What will these examinations be for? To test the competence of drivers under normal driving conditions and to determine if they will be as competent under pressure!

(3) Automobile service dealers will suffer a business loss. I don't see why these people should cause such concern in particular. Think of all the profits airlines, railways, buses, and taxis will make in recompense.

(4) Testing time and expense could be used in law enforcement. With 50,000 drivers off the highways, a tremendous burden of enforcement and vigilance will be lifted from the shoulders of our courageous Highway Patrol.

(5) Drinking drivers would still be potential killers. The only way to stop drunken driving would be to stop every car on the road every day. The percentage of drunks the tests will eliminate is sufficient to assure more success than at present.

(6) Circumstances of little value would eliminate drivers of good judgment. Circumstances kill! If accidents occurred under normal conditions, this might be a well-founded statement.

(7) Outstate drivers, the cause of accidents, would not be affected. Nebraskans are as famous for roaming this nation as anyone else. A Nebraskan killed on the highways of another state is one more Nebraskan reflecting the laxity of our laws.

"C. B." suggests two major areas of accident prevention—stricter law enforcement and better driving aids and facilities. What has be-

Policy-Makers

Hastings, Neb.

It is too bad that Art T. Mapstead is not a reader of Republican Columnist Bob Considine's daily newspaper contributions. He wrote recently on the Berlin controversy. Let me quote him:

"The President said he was going to stand firm on Berlin. I thought he said it magnificently and so I sent him a telegram to that effect. Then I ran into a fellow and reiterated this enthusiasm. He is not an ordinary bloke. He is one of the nation's top military authorities! He asked me not to use his name, a request usually to be scorned, but I am chicken-ing out and respected his wishes, only because others have asked the same question. He and they are worried over what lies beyond a firm stand."

"Said he: 'It seems apparent that we are risking the lives of 50 or 60 million Americans in order to protect—presuming we could—two million Berliners. These Berliners are hostages because of us. They were made hostage by our idiotic policy at the time, which was carried out by Generals Marshall and Eisenhower.'"

Whether that policy was made at Yalta, or anywhere else, it was not made without the approval of George C. Marshall and Ike Eisenhower. Neither Roosevelt, Chamberlain, nor Stalin would have made that policy without the approval of the commanders in the field of action. Therefore this writer is not taking back a single sentence of the article about which Mr. Mapstead complained. We now know that the said policy resulted in a monumental blunder. The language I used was tame compared to that of the "top military authority."

Power: U.S. Couldn't Trust Radar Warning To Launch ICBMs

Couldn't Be Recalled If Alarm False

Washington (AP) — The chief of the Strategic Air Command says that for the foreseeable future he doesn't think the United States could launch intercontinental missiles against Russia solely on the basis of radar warning of oncoming enemy rockets.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, the SAC chief, told a House Appropriations subcommittee that in the event such a radar alarm turned out to be false, it would be impossible to recall any ICBMs the United States might fire in retaliation.

He said he could—and would—send off his manned bomber force on receiving a radar warning. Such a force could be recalled before it reached the danger zone.

Power said U.S. authorities would have about 1½ hours from the warning time to verify whether it actually is an attack and to decide whether to allow the bombers to go on to their targets. In the event of an ICBM attack, he said, the retaliation decision time would be only about 12 minutes.

The SAC chief told the subcommittee that because of this, missile launching sites have to be "hardened"—put under ground where they could be knocked out only by a close or direct hit.

"The manned bomber force insures its survival through getting warning and getting off the ground with that warning," Power said, "while the missile force will have to rely on its ability to survive the attack."

PBK, Sigma Xi At NU Pick New Members

Two top scholastic honorary societies, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, at the University of Nebraska Monday night announced their new undergraduate members at a joint dinner meeting.

Fourteen students were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary society for arts and sciences, and 32 were named as newly elected undergraduate members of Sigma Xi, national honorary science society.

More than one third of the newly elected Phi Beta Kappa members were also selected for membership in Sigma Xi.

They are: George B. Eagleton of Tekamah, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Eagleton; Dennis R. Bongie of Neligh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bongie; Allan B. Berggren of Axtell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Berggren; Larry E. DeVries of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeVries; and Richard E. Roelfs of Diller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roelfs.

One faculty member, Dr. O. K. Bouwsma, professor of philosophy, was named to an honorary membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Other new Phi Beta Kappa members are: Jacqueline J. Hisebe of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Hisebe; Phyllis A. Bonner of Imperial, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bonner; David C. Young of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Young; Ardy M. Deichmann of Marcus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deichmann; Jack B. Gruch of Omaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gruch.

North Platter Wins Pharmacy Scholarship

Gary Jergensen, an 18-year-old North Platte High School senior Monday was awarded a $500 Pepsodent Presidential scholarship during the second day of the 76th annual meeting of the Nebraska Pharmaceutical Assn. in Lincoln.

Jergensen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Jergensen of North Platte, will use the 5-year scholarship at the University of Nebraska College of Pharmacy. He graduates from high school next month.

The scholarship will be awarded annually to an outstanding young Nebraskan high school senior interested in pharmacy.

Assn. President Robert L. Hildebrand, R. P. of York, was honored with a special president's plaque for his "outstanding service and contributions to pharmacy in Nebraska."

More than 500 state pharmacists and their wives attended second-day sessions of a scheduled 3-day convention in Lincoln.

Pharmacists heard discussions of merchandising, retail salesmanship and advertising at Monday sessions.

Speaking at a morning session sion, Norman Leuthauer, NPA District 1 president, said the mass manufacturing of modern medicines has made the pharmacist "more professional" in recent years.

He said an average of one new drug item goes on the market every day of the year and "it is becoming difficult for pharmacists to keep up with all the new products."

He said today's medicines "hit the bullseye" in treating illness, whereas people in the past had no assurance that a drug would be effective.

Tuesday convention highlights include an address by Dr. Fay Smith, president of the Nebraska State Medical Assn. and the annual banquet in the evening.

Dr. Ralph G. Nichols, head of the communications program at the University of Minnesota, will be banquet speaker. The banquet will honor outgoing president Hildebrand and incoming president Harold B. Williams of Lexington.

The NPA Ladies Auxiliary held a business meeting and fashion show Monday. Tuesday highlights include election of officers and a reception at the Nebraska Governor's Mansion.

150,000 FAMILIES HAVE ALREADY MADE THE MAGNIFICENT CHANGE TO

THE CLEAN WINGED STYLE OF BUICK '59!

Next time you look through your windshield at the unmistakably clean, sleek tail of a Buick '59... take a moment to envy its owner...

He owns THE Car... "hottest" thing on wheels today.

He owns THE style that's farthest ahead both in public notice and in future trade-in worth.

He commands the most efficient automobile power plant in America today. (Buick's new Wildcat engines not only deliver an important increase in actual miles per gallon... but when you take car weight and performance into account, they get more out of each gallon of gas than any others.)

He stops with Buick's exclusive braking system. (Fin-cooled, front and rear, aluminum drums in front.)

When he wants to speed up or slow down, he feels the quick answers of the smoothest transmissions of all... (only Buick combines Twin Turbine* or Triple Turbine* transmission smoothness with Wildcat getaway.)

But why not find out for yourself? This car's quietness of motion. Its comfort of roominess and ride. Its willingness to do exactly what you wish of it.

You'll live so much better in a Buick '59. Let your Quality Buick Dealer show you why... and how easily the man in the Buick could be... YOU!

Visit your Quality Buick Dealer soon. He's anxious to show you why your family belongs in the NEXT 150,000 to make the magnificent change to Buick '59!

*Optional at extra cost on some models.

TO OWNERS OF CARS IN "THE LEADING LOW-PRICED 3"... You'll be surprised how easily you can own a Buick Le Sabre instead! Be sure to ask your Buick dealer about "THE MOST IMPORTANT $200 IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD!"

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

If you live a reasonable length of time, you will do a very unreasonable thing: You will write a book.

There are about 5000 books published each year — I think that is the figure and I am not going to look it up. What- ever it is, it is fantastic. AND, mind you, this does not include books written and NOT published.

The relationship between books published and not published — the ratio of literary endeavor — is like the part of the iceberg that shows to the surface.

It figures about like this:

One in every 100 Americans has published a book. Some 83 others have written a book in part or the whole thing. The rest are planning a book. Or else reading the ones that have been written and saying, "How do they sell such junk? If I had time—"

I have written a book and it will be published. So the other day I went to lunch with Mr. Jack Geoghegan, the book-publishing man.

"The question now," said Jack, "is how will we sell it?"

"Could we just put it in book stores?" I said timidly. "A good many books are in book stores. And I see people go in and buy them."

"Most of them are browsing," he said. "People will not go into a lingerie store to browse. But a bookstore is a public pasture. It is the great whiter-away of time during the lunch hour."

"No," said Mr. Geoghegan with a sigh, "we must have a gimmick."

"What sort of a gimmick?"

"Well," he said, "there is the autograph party. You can sign your name?" he asked anxiously. "Good. We have an autograph party and you sign books."

"Will they buy the books? Also I am very messy with a pen. The ink blots and I might spoil a book."

Mr. Geoghegan said of course people will buy signed books.

"It is more personal. If you spill ink on one," he said grandly, "I will pay for it myself."

This is a curious thing about the book publishing business. And one that should be considered by the people who are thinking about writing a book. You do not just write a book. You must sign it.

"Radio is good. You should appear on popular radio programs."

"What shall I say?"

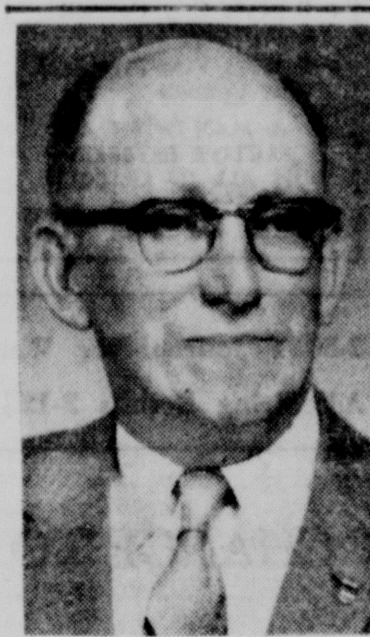

"Talk about your book. The master of ceremonies introduces you and says, 'He is the author of such-and-such and now, Mr. So-and-so, tell us about your book!'"

"Does he have to call me a so-and-so?"

"That is an illustration of what I mean. The main point is nobody knows about you or about your book. We are trying to give you exposure."

Senators Shun New Judiciary Unit Bill

The Nebraska Legislature, for the first time at the current 69th session, balked Monday at accepting a new bill. By a 15-20 vote, the Unicameral refused to receive a bill brought in by the Judiciary Committee.

Several legislators arose to say it's time to clamp down on the introduction of bills unless an emergency is involved.

The snag developed after two new measures, the 702nd and 703rd of the session had been received.

The shunned measure was proposed by the Lincoln Bar Assn. It would have revised present law so that when a plaintiff brings a personal injury suit, the defendant would have the right to take depositions in Nebraska with the re- tort as to injuries, in advance of the trial. At present, defendants are denied this right because of the privileged nature of doctor-patient relationships.

Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont, Judiciary Committee chairman, said the bill is in line with a trend in the courts to let the defendant know fully what the plaintiff's case will be before a trial begins.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City wanted to know how long the problem has been in existence.

"Since the beginning of time," Simmons said. "I think it's time to call a halt (to bill introduction)," Stryker replied.

Election Timetable Introduced as LB702 was a Government Committee bill proposed by the secretary of state's office. It completely rewrites the timetable for elections in Nebraska with the result that official vote canvassing will be completed on one week earlier than at present. Received as LB703 was a bill to break into the vault.

Judiciary Committee bill recommended by Sen. Edwin McHugh of Murdock, to raise the pay of some court bailiffs. The bill would raise from a maximum of $5 to a maximum of $10 per day the bailiff's pay in counties of 60,000 or less.

Jurors, at $6 per day, receive more than does the bailiff, the Judiciary Committee noted.

He Tuned To Trouble Doerun, Ga. — Police Chief C. L. Hall's ear for music helped catch a bank burglar. Hall heard a radio playing in the coat of a young man and asked him where he got it. The youth said he took the radio as security for a $150 loan from a friend. The bill he had taken the radio from was unable to break into the vault.

Around The Town

—Day by day we find that the budding stage and is opening into full bloom—newswise. This morning we have a variety of events to mention, and each has to do with interesting people—There are farewell courtesies—a courtesy for popular brides-elect—a post-nuptial courtesy for a bride—courtesies for guests—There are homecomers to mention and travelers to talk about—All in all it's a great day this April morning.

We'll begin with the brides-elect, Miss Suzanne Swingle, whose marriage to Veldon Lewis will be solemnized on Friday, June 12.

On Saturday Miss Swingle and her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Swingle, will go to Fremont where the bride-to-be will be honored at a 1:30 o'clock dessert luncheon and miscellaneous shower. The hostesses will be Mrs. Enlow Heyner and Mrs. Ernestine McLain who have invited 21 guests to the party which will be held at the home of Mrs. Heyner.

—Another of our brides-elect is Miss Jacquelyn Lou Merritt who has named Saturday, May 23, as the date of her marriage to Orville Glass.

On Thursday morning Miss Merritt will share honors with Mrs. Lowe Folsom, the former Mavis Money Poe, when Mrs. William I. Aitken and her daughter, Mrs. J. Taylor Greer, are coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Aitken.

—And since we have mentioned Mrs. Folsom we feel there is no better time than now to tell you about the coffee for which Mrs. Folsom's mother, Mrs. Willard M. Folsom, will be hostess on Thursday morning, April 16, at the Lincoln Country Club. Mrs. Folsom has invited guests for the hours of 10:30 o'clock to 12 o'clock.

—Now back to Miss Merritt and the luncheon next Monday for which Mrs. Emmett Gillaspie will be hostess at her home.

—Complimenting Miss Merritt on Thursday, April 16, will be Mrs. John Boman and Mrs. James B. Harley, Jr., who will be morning coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Boman's mother, Mrs. Perry Branch.

—The farewell courtesies we mentioned are for Capt. and Mrs. Robert W. Gottlieb who will leave on Thursday, April 16, for Capt. Gottlieb's new tour of duty at Yokota Air Force Base near Tokyo. Capt. and Mrs. Gottlieb, contrary to all expectation, are not flying to Japan—They are taking the boat for one beloved reason—their cross-eyed Siamese cat, Reginald. Reginald, it seems doesn't take kindly to air travel.

Anyway, Capt. and Mrs. Gottlieb are being quite festive during the remainder of their time in Lincoln. As a matter of fact the farewell courtesies for them began last Thursday evening when the staff of the Officers Club at the Lincoln Air Force Base entertained in honor of the former club's officer, Capt. Gottlieb, and Mrs. Gottlieb.

—On Capt. and Mrs. Gottlieb's courtesy calendar for this week are two parties—one for Mrs. Gottlieb, and one at which they share honors.

The party for Mrs. Gottlieb is the luncheon and bridge for which Mrs. Herbert C. Englebrecht and Mrs. Frederick Inderbitzen will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Englebrecht.

And on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. David Davidson, Mrs. Nathan Moser and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Friedman, will pay farewell courtesy to Capt. and Mrs. Gottlieb, when they are hosts and hostesses at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Friedman.

—A week from today, April 14, Mrs. Felix Hardison will be hostess at an all-day duplicate bridge party to honor Mrs. Gottlieb.

—Thursday, this week, and next, seems to be a popular day for parties—perhaps the coffee for which Mrs. E. Sheldon Hallett will be hostess at her home on Thursday morning, doesn't come under the category of strictly social—The event really is a kick-off affair for the members of the ticket committee of the Centennial Ball.

Honored At Farewell Courtesy

In farewell courtesy to Mrs. James Maraist, Mrs. Clinton Belknap was hostess on Monday at a 10 o'clock coffee at her home. Twelve friends of the honoree were invited for the informal affair.

Mrs. Maraist and her children, Roger, Christine and Jimmy, will leave Lincoln Saturday to join Maj. Maraist who is serving with the 864th Strategic Missile Squadron at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala.

The Star In Suburbia

EASTRIDGE

A warm welcome is extended this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corcoran who moved to Lincoln recently from Huron, S.D. Included in the Corcoran family whose address is 5919 L St. are Carolyn, who is 11 years old, and seven year-old Marjorie.

And mention of the Corcoran family reminds us that last week they had as their guests Mrs. Corcoran's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Baeverstad, and Mrs. Corcoran's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnston and their children, Michael and Lisa, all of Cando, N.D.

Farewells were being said in Eastridge last week to Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Kugel and their children, Kathy and Craig, who have moved to Omaha.

Entertaining at a farewell dinner on Wednesday evening for the Kugels were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stehly and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tompkins. The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stehly.

We're pleased to welcome to Eastridge this morning Mr. and Mrs. Orval G. Beckmann who moved to the suburb and specifically into the Kugel's former home. The Beckmanns previously resided at 215 So. 56th.

Younger members of the Beckmann family are Sue Ann, five, Tommy, who is three years-old, and ten months-old Jean Ellen.

A birthday celebrant at her home last night was Vicki Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean C. Burns, who was honored at a family dinner on her fifth anniversary. Guests at the dinner included Vicki's grandmother, Mrs. H. F. McDougall; her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Trudeau, and her brother.

Head Medical Group

Auxiliary members of the Lancaster County Medical Association elected Mrs. L. F. Pfeifer president of the organization at their annual spring luncheon Monday at the University Club.

Other new officers named were Mrs. M. P. Brotsma, vice president; Mrs. O. A. Neely, treasurer; and Mrs. H. L. Papenfuss, secretary.

Pupils Receive School Awards

A special assembly was held Monday afternoon at Merle Beattie School honoring the pupils who participated in the school's reading program this winter.

Approximately 238 pupils read the required ten books beginning Nov. 2, during National Book Week, and ending March 29, with a total of 3,680 books read.

Awards were presented by Mrs. Thomas Miller, Merle Beattie PTA library chairman and especially honored were two third grade pupils, Robert Simon, who read 80 books, and Deborah Brehm, who read 70.

Actions Speak Louder!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband talks in his sleep. I KNOW he does, but he denies it. About a year ago I heard him say, "You seem to know when I need you the most!" When I woke him up he claimed he had ME in mind. Time proved him a liar. Last night I heard him say plain as day, "I've been sitting in this alley waiting for you. What time do you have to be back at work, Baby?" I shook him and woke him up and when I told him what he said, he said I was the one who was dreaming. Could I be dreaming that I hear him talking in his sleep or do you think otherwise?

NO DREAMER
DEAR NO: It's not what a man SAYS in his sleep that counts, it's how he behaves when he's awake.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to NUMBER ONE BOY, but NUMBER TWO BOY will not stay out of the picture. NUMBER ONE BOY says that if I am not sure of myself I should go with NUMBER TWO BOY, but I know that NUMBER TWO BOY is not the marrying kind. I like NUMBER TWO BOY better than NUMBER ONE BOY in a few ways because he is more romantic, but NUMBER ONE BOY is more dependable. Please tell me what to do.

NEEDING HELP
DEAR NEEDING: You had better look for NUMBER THREE BOY. When in doubt, keep looking.

DEAR ABBY: Can a single girl wreck a home if it isn't really a "home"—merely a "peaceful co-existence"?

SINGLE GIRL
DEAR SINGLE: Let's not quibble about the meaning of words. A single girl CAN wreck a "peaceful co-existence," which amounts to the same thing.

DEAR ABBY: My father thinks he knows everything just because he went to Stanford. He says all States

86th Congress Reconvenes Today

Washington (UPI) — The Democratic-controlled 86th Congress reconvenes Tuesday with its agenda crowded with legislation certain to provoke political controversy and threaten President Eisenhower's "balanced" budget.

No major floor activity has been scheduled for this week, despite the fact that members of the House and Senate have enjoyed an 11-day Easter recess.

Many lawmakers will not return to the capital until Wednesday. Both houses also will mark time Thursday, the opening day here of the 1959 major league baseball season. Many congressmen traditionally attend the opener.

But major legislative scuffles were just around the corner. The first new test involving the President's 1960 budget may come on the Democratic side.

Compromise

A Senate-House Conference Committee has been trying to work out a compromise between the Senate-approved 465 million dollar airport bill and the 297 million dollar measure passed by the House.

The President recommended a 200 million dollar bill and might veto any legislation substantially more costly than his recommendation.

The House Ways and Means Committee will open hearings Tuesday on legislation to extend the coverage of unemployment compensation insurance to an additional 3 million workers and to set up federal standards on the amount and duration of jobless pay.

Key Democrats forecast House approval of the extended coverage. But they predicted defeat for the federal standards provision, organized labor's main goal in the field.

Balanced Budget

Other bills awaiting final action threatened to upset the President's hopes for a balanced budget in the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

They include a Senate-approved $2,700,000,000 housing bill now pending in the House, a Senate-approved $398,000,000 measure to aid depressed areas and legislation to boost U.S. contributions to the World Bank and Monetary Fund.

Major fights are ahead on union reform legislation, a new civil rights bill, some form of aid to education, the huge defense appropriations measure, and foreign aid spending.

The next major issue to come up on the Senate floor will be the modified version of the Kennedy-Ervin bill to compel unions to report their finances and administration and to make amendments in the Taft-Hartley Law.

T. H. Flader, 100, Funeral Wednesday

The funeral of Tilman Howard Flader, who died Monday at the age of 100, will be 3 p.m. Wednesday at Umbarger's, the Rev. Lloyd J. Bliss officiating.

Mr. Flader, who lived at 333 No. 11th was born in Bloomfield, Ind., March 7, 1859.

He came to Nebraska in 1882 and farmed near the Lincoln Air Force Base from 1895 to 1929, when he moved to Lincoln. He was president of the Oak Creek Drainage Board until it was disbanded.

He was also a member of Christ Methodist Church.

Survivors include his sons, Floyd, Guy and Harley, all of Lincoln; daughters, Mrs. Lillian Carlisle and Mrs. Ina Hatzenbuehler of Lincoln and Mrs. Ida Gateley of Jefferson, Ia.; 8 grandchildren; 15 great-children; and 9 great-great-children.

His wife preceded him in death on July 4, 1942.

More Access To Public Records Bill Runs Into Strong Opposition

By Don Walton

A bill to broaden access to public records ran into opposition Monday from a bevy of public officials and business representatives.

The measure, LB677, was heard by the Legislature's Judiciary Committee. No action was taken.

The bill provides that all public records, other than those which statutes specifically deem closed, are open to public inspection, reproduction and dissemination.

Further, it provides that any public record which has been accurately reproduced is privileged from suit for libel or slander.

Press, TV Support

The measure was supported by a line-up of press, radio and television representatives.

A. C. Sidner of Fremont, representing the Outstate Daily Press Assn., pointed out that the bill's proponents "do not wish to hassle over doors already closed."

They do, however, want to provide statute clearly stating that all records not now closed or exempted in the future by the Legislature are open to the press and the public in general, Sidner said.

Examples

Questioned as to what specifically has been withheld from the press, Joe R. Seacrest, managing editor of The Lincoln Journal, provided these examples:

—mail vote tally sheets of the Lancaster County gubernatorial election recount.

—voter list in a Lancaster County precinct.

—City-County Health Department birth records (1947).

—probate of the will of the late Chris Abbott.

All were secured, he said, after appeals to the attorney general and other officials.

Among other disputed matters, Seacrest named the minutes of the Omaha School Board, real estate valuations at Rushville and a salary schedule for University of Nebraska employees.

Those In Support

Supporting the bill were Jack Lough of Albion, president of the Nebraska Press Assn.; Richard Chapin of Lincoln, representing the Nebraska Broadcasters Assn., and Dr. William Hall, director of the University of Nebraska School of Journalism, speaking as an individual.

Chief Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrbruch said the bill must be amended to prohibit access to records of criminal litigation and investigation, and road condemnation procedures.

"Law enforcement agencies investigate many unfounded cases," Fahrbruch noted. Such information, he said, should be unavailable.

As written, he said, LB677 would allow anybody to walk in to a law enforcement office and ask: "What have you got on John Doe?"

Other Opponents

Also opposing were Chauncey Barney, Lincoln attorney representing the Nebraska Bankers Assn., stating that present limitations on bank records are not sufficient, and Lincoln attorney Thomas Pansing, representing the Police Officers Assn. of Nebraska.

Pansing suggested limitations on police records and governmental intra-office communications.

Lincoln City Attorney Ralph Nelson said real estate acquisitions and police files should be limited.

Also heard Monday:

Gen. White Says U.S. Has Adequate Retaliation Forces

Tuesday, April 7, 1959 The Lincoln Star 11

Chicago (UPI) — Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the United States has "adequate" strategic retaliation forces to meet any surprise attack and sufficient military power to win any general, thermonuclear war over Berlin.

He warned against trying to "match an opponent gun for gun, aircraft for aircraft or missile for missile."

"We can provide the deterrence we need at lesser cost," White said.

White told a news conference that Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles capable of dumping thermonuclear warheads on Russia will be poised and operational at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California by late June or July.

He said the Air Force's Minute Man, a solid propellant ICBM now in the development stage, will "greatly improve our strategic position" at "cut rate prices" by the early 1960's.

"Cheapest"

White said one Minuteman, triggered to go off underground at an almost instantaneous reaction, would cost only one million dollars — making it the "cheapest" weapon yet developed in the missile field.

Later, White spoke at the Fifth National Military-Industrial Conference. Approximately 1,000 military and industrial leaders are sitting in at the 3-day conference on the Soviet economic challenge.

White was questioned at the news conference about recent testimony by Gen. Thomas S. Power that the United States' "deterrent posture is deteriorating."

White said it "was right and proper" for Power, the head of the Strategic Air Command, to feel he needs more forces. But White said the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretary of Defense must take an "across the board" view of armed forces needs.

"For the moment the strategic forces in my opinion are adequate but not excessive," White said.

White said any shooting war over Berlin would become a "general war." He added, "I don't think it is possible to have a war with the Soviet Union that would not become a nuclear war."

Local Permit Truck Use Bill Killed

The Public Works Committee of the Legislature Monday killed 5-2 LB612 which would extend the area in which a truck with a local license can operate.

The measure would let local license trucks operate in the county where licensed instead of within a certain mileage area. The bill would also increase the weight maximum of such trucks from 10 to 12 tons.

The committee advanced 5-1 LB520 to general file again after rescinding earlier action requiring trucks and buses to have two license plates.

The effect of the action is to leave the law regarding truck plates as it now stands.

The committee had earlier advanced the bill to general file.

Held by the committee after public hearing was LB683, a committee-sponsored bill designed to place a 2% tax on the gross income from express business of any company.

The bill was held pending further information. Appearing at the hearing were Paul Halpine of the Nebraska Motor Carriers Assn., Ed Miller of the Burlington Railroad and Russell Lockwood of the Nebraska Petroleum Market-ers Assn.

Advanced 5-0 was LB327, sponsored by Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont, which would allow the counties to take care of drainage problems in areas outside of drainage districts.

Fremont Atty. A. C. Sidner testified he helped draw up the bill at the request of the Dodge County board.

It Pays to Own a Dodge!

(It could save you hundreds of dollars!)

Okay, it's settled. You've thought about it and talked about it and now you've decided: A new car—and soon. Now for the jackpot question. Which '59 car will it be?

Unless you happen to be a Mr. Gotrocks, you'll probably think pretty carefully before you finally make the move. You'll do more shopping and compare more closely. And you'll ask yourself some basic questions. How much will a new car cost me to buy? How much will it cost me to drive? What do I get for my money?

There is no mystery about new car prices

Until this year, it was hard to compare different makes of cars to find which offered the most value for the money. It was like comparing apples and bananas. But not any more. Not since all new cars are required to carry price labels. Now, for the first time, you can compare various makes and see exactly what you're getting for your money. It's like exposing the hole cards in a game of stud poker: You know exactly where you stand.

Why should you buy a Dodge?

No one has to tell you that there are a number of cars on the market that sell for less than a Dodge. No cigar on that count. You know it and we know it. But there are things you get in a Dodge that you simply can't get in these other smaller cars.

And this is important. Dodge gives you all of these things—the bigness and roominess, the comfort and ride, the luxury and prestige—for less than other cars in its field.

It's not just a few dollars less, either; in many cases it's literally hundreds of dollars less. Some Dodge models are even priced lower than the so-called

"low-priced cars." (We'll be happy to show you the actual suggested retail prices.)

All cars cost money to run—but how much?

It would be nice if you just bought a new car and that was that. It didn't burn gas. Didn't use oil. Never needed service. But that's wishful thinking. Cars do use gas and oil. They do need service occasionally. But that doesn't mean that all cars cost the same to drive and maintain. Not by a jugful. There's a big difference.

Dodge is designed to run for less

Dodge has always had a reputation for economical operation. People who have owned them have found it costs less to run a Dodge, and that a Dodge needs service less often.

Take gasoline economy. The new Dodge 326 cu. in. Red Ram V-8 engine, because of its design and efficiency, will take you miles farther on a gallon of gas than any other V-8 in the Dodge field. You save money every mile you drive.

But that's only part of the story. The way Dodge is engineered and built saves you money on such things as engine wear, brake relining, tune-ups, spark plug replacement. When you add them all up, they represent quite a saving. Another reason why it pays to own a Dodge.

What do you get for what you pay?

According to Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices, Dodge generally costs less, model for model, than other cars in its field. Fine and dandy. But while price is important, it isn't the only consideration. The real standard of value—whether you're buying a new car or a can of beans—is what you get for what you pay. It's the "extras" you get at no extra cost that really determine which car is the best buy.

Dodge gives you more for less

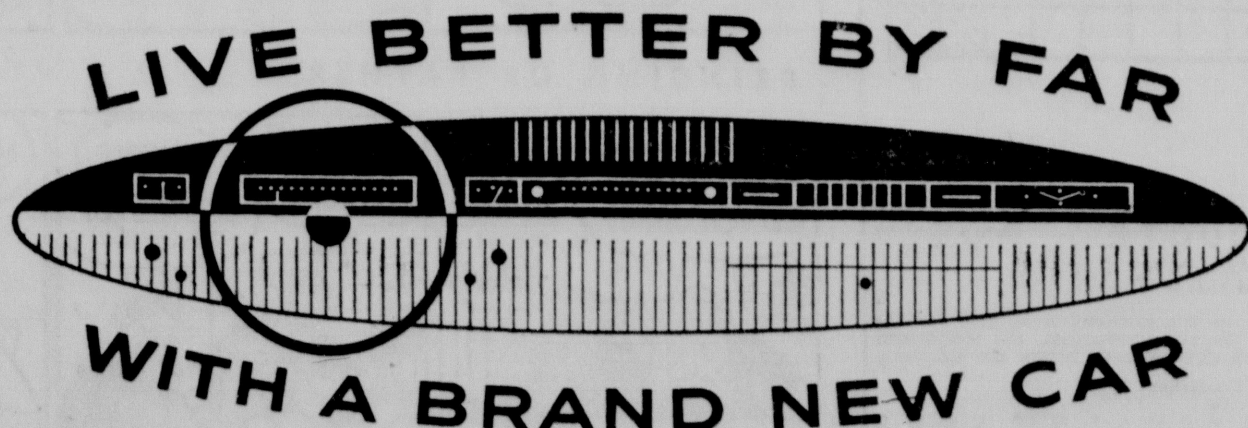

Talk is cheap. Anyone can make claims. So let's be specific about the extras you get in Dodge at no extra cost. Torsion-Aire Ride—conceded the finest suspension in the industry—standard equipment on all Dodge models. Total-Contact Brakes, Safety-Rim Wheels, Electric Windshield Wipers, Independent Parking Brake—all standard on Dodge. Of course, you can also choose from such Dodge options as Push-Button Driving, Full-Time Power Steering and Swing-Out Swivel Seats.

There's a big difference in comfort, too

Goodness knows, we certainly don't want to knock competition. But we feel obligated to point out the comfort and convenience of the '59 Dodge. If you've tried getting into some of the other '59 cars you know just what we mean. To say it is difficult would honestly be an understatement. That's why we hope you'll come in and compare the difference in Dodge. How much easier it is to get in and out of a Dodge. How much more comfortable it is to sit in a Dodge. How much more room you have to stretch out. Really, it pays to own a Dodge.

It doesn't cost a penny to get the facts

We don't expect you to rush in and plunk down your money for a new Dodge just on the basis of what you've read. But if what you've read seems to make sense, we do hope you'll stop in to see, to drive and to price a Dodge. We think it's a whale of a buy, but then maybe we're prejudiced. Why not drop in and judge for yourself. We'll be more than happy to give you all the facts. No obligation, of course.

Casey Says He's Got AL By Tail

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — "I've got the American League by the tail," said Casey Stengel Monday, naming Bob Turley as the New York Yankees' opening day pitcher against Boston Friday at New York.

"It will be Turley in the first game and Whitey Ford in the second," said the Yankee manager whose team finished the Florida phase of its training schedule with a 14-11 record.

"I also think I can play two teams if I have to," he continued. "That is, I can play a right-handed and a left-handed team."

Casey was speaking about right and left-handed batters. He quickly named a "lefty" team that had only one right-handed batter — Gil McDougald at second base. His "righty" team has one lefty — catcher Yogi Berra.

This is the way Stengel lined them up: "Lefty" — Marv Throneberry on first, McDougald at second, Tony Kubek at short, Jerry Lumpe at 3rd, Norm Siebern, switch-hitting Mickey Mantle and Enos Slaughter in the outfield and Berra catching.

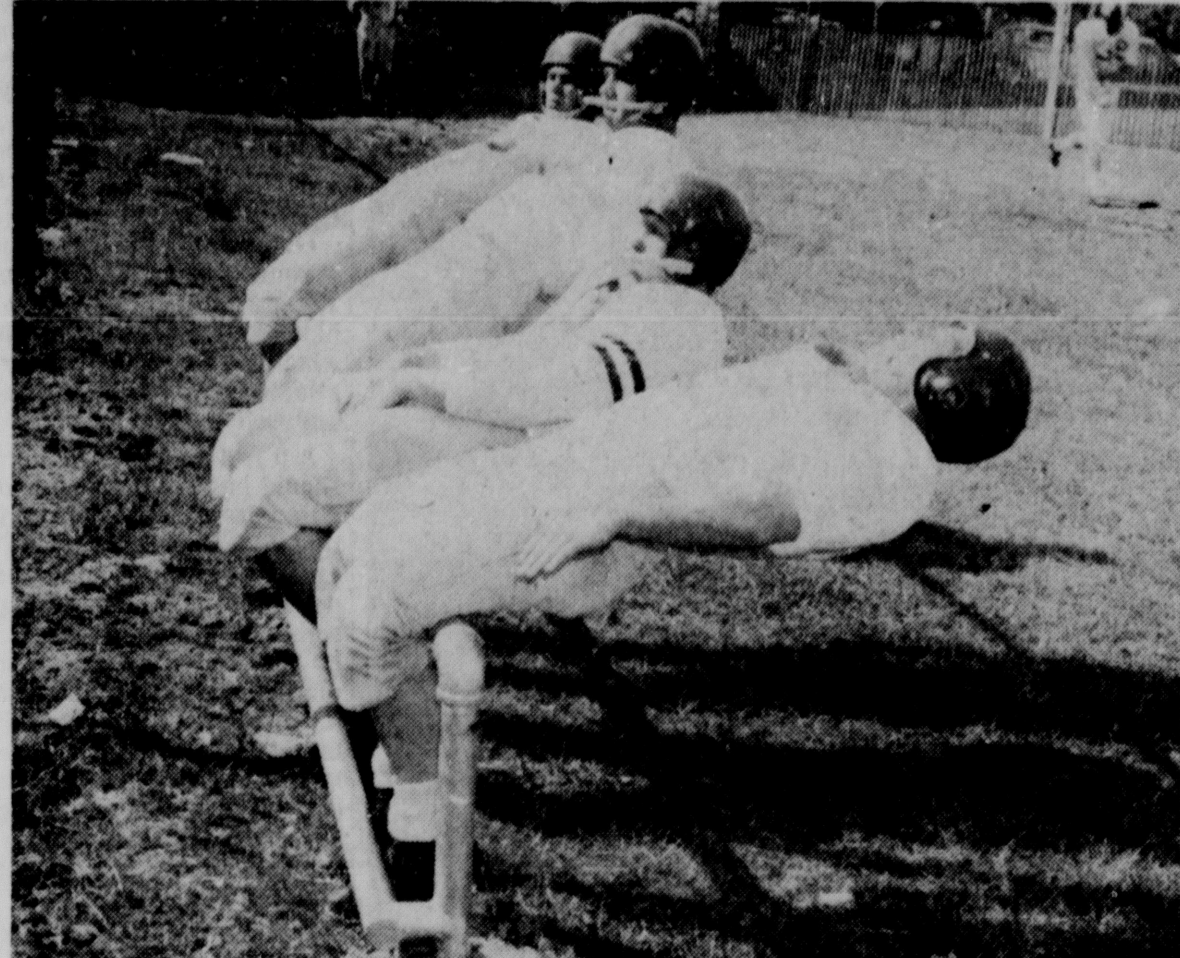

"Righty" — Bill Skowron on first, McDougald on second, Bobby Richardson at short, Andy Carey at 3rd, Elston Howard, Mantle and Hank Bauer in the outfield and Berra catching.

The versatile Yanks had an open date Monday. Their two-day tour home opens today in Savannah against Cincinnati. Stengel whittled 4 men off his squad. Virgil Trucks, 40-year-old righthander, was released unconditionally. Shortstop Fritz Brickell was optioned to the Richmond farm of the International League.

Outfielders Ken Hunt and Russ Snyder, Richmond players who have been training with the Yanks, were returned to the Virginians.

The 11 writers who cover the Yankees daily voted the camp's annual rookie award to outfielder Gordon Windhorn, still on the Richmond roster. The 25-year-old athlete led the American Association last year with a .328 average at Denver. In the exhibition games he hit .345.

"Windy has done well here," said Stengel. "I'm not saying he'll stay with the club all year. But he has been showing enough that I might carry him as a righthanded pinch-hitter."

97 Out For First Drill

. . . NU Spring Practice Starts

By Don Bryant

Hot weather and a full ration of hard work was the menu Monday afternoon when 97 University of Nebraska football players turned out for the opening session of spring practice. The 2-hour toil featured fundamentals of all sorts and a large order of group work. Players were divided by position and were under the supervision of assistant coaches.

"This hot weather is nice," remarked Coach Bill Jennings. "It's so hot—maybe we ought to call off practice because of the heat."

The Huskers are scheduled to practice Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday until All Sports Day when they meet the Alumni.

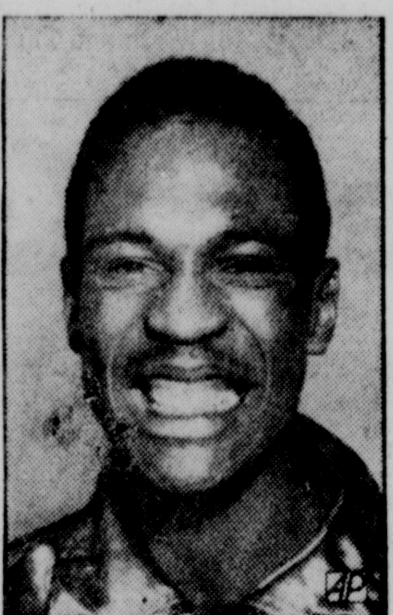

Jennings indicated the weather may dictate a change in plans.

"We may change if we run into bad weather," he said. "During the early part (20 days are allowed) we won't go inside if the weather is bad. We'll save the day and throw it in later."

This week will be devoted largely to work on the NU offense, Bill said.

"We'd like to have a good scrimmage Saturday, so we're trying to get an offense in," he said.

Five student assistants are helping the Husker varsity staff. They are Larry Naviaux, George Harshman, Dick

RUSSELL RUINING LAKERS

Minneapolis (AP) — Long Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics is averaging a piddling 7 points a game but he's killing the Minneapolis Lakers off the boards in pro basketball's World Series.

With 58 rebounds in two games the Celtics' defensive wonderman cast a tall shadow over dimming Laker hopes in the National Basketball Assn. playoffs resuming tonight in St. Paul.

"I don't care that I haven't scored many points in the series," Russell said. "We're winning, aren't we? I'm supposed to get that ball. That's what I'm trying to do."

In the Celtics' two weekend victories in Boston it was Frank Ramsey, Tom Heinsohn, Bob Cousy, and Bill Sharman who packed the scoring artillery.

But it was Russell, with 30 rebounds in one game and 28 in another, who carried the Celtics' break neck sweep down the court.

GAMBLING SAID REASON

Fight Switched To Indianapolis

Indianapolis (AP) — Floyd Patterson's manager said Monday Patterson would defend his heavyweight championship against Brian London here May 1 instead of at Las Vegas, Nev., regardless of the outcome of a television contract.

Cus D'Amato said the television dispute was between the National Broadcasting Co. and Cecil Rhodes Jr., Cranford, N.J. industrialist-promoter, but added:

"Regardless of what happens, the fight will be held in Indianapolis."

Rhodes said the title bout was moved from Las Vegas to Indianapolis to escape rumors of gamblers' backing.

"There wasn't — legally or illegally," Rhodes added. "But I don't want that kind of implication."

In Las Vegas, Jack Doyle, secretary of the Nevada athletic commission, said he was "baffled and surprised" by the switch.

Doyle said Rhodes "told me the fight was all set last Thursday and promised to be out here soon to work out final details."

Rhodes said he expects NBC and Gillette Co., sponsors, to agree to switch in the telecast.

However, Tom Gallery, sports director of NBC, in New York said he had a signed contract for a Patterson-London title fight in Las Vegas and had not agreed to any move to Indianapolis.

"We have nothing against Indianapolis," Gallery said. "But a contract is a contract. We have a contract signed by Cus D'Amato, Patterson and

STU FINED, MISSED BUS

Fort Meyers, Fla. (AP) — First baseman Dick Stuart was fined $200 by Manager Danny Murtaugh for missing a bus taking the Pittsburgh Pirates to an exhibition game.

It was the second time this spring Stuart had missed a bus, but Murtaugh said Stuart would be given an opportunity to earn back his fine.

That was Saturday. Sunday Stuart began working off the fine by getting 3 hits, including a homer, in 4 trips to the plate as the Pirates whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 5-1.

OU Golfers Win

Omaha (AP) — Capt. Bob Matthews paced Omaha University golfers to a 10½ to 1½ victory over Midland College Monday. Matthews was medalist with 77.

Omaha Nine Smashes Wesleyan Crew, 19-3

Wayne Westphall and Stan Maciatis led a veteran Omaha University crew to a smashing 19-3 victory over Nebraska Wesleyan here Monday.

It was NWU's second loss in as many starts. The Plainsmen try again today, hosting Midland.

Omaha slammed 4 Wesleyan hurriers for 21 hits, taking a 5-0 lead off starter Lonnie Ehlers in the first two innings. The Omahans padded the margin with a 9-run burst against Jim Munford in the final two innings, including 8 runs in the 9th.

Westphall batted in 3 runs with a triple and picked up the pitching victory, going 6 innings and allowing only one run. Maciatis had a 3-for-4 day, batting in a trio of runs on a double and homer.

Omaha slammed 13 extra base blows.

Wesleyan got 12 hits, but couldn't bunch them until Lonnie Johnson and Bob Botts hit back-to-back home runs in the 9th.

Strannigan To Wyoming Job

to Wyoming where he played under Shelton until his graduation in 1942.

He played 3 years of basketball in the service after his graduation and then two years of amateur athletic union ball with the Denver Nuggets.

He began coaching at Loveland High School in Loveland, Colo., moving to Colorado State after two years.

In 4 years at that Colorado college, Strannigan compiled a record of 60 wins and 30 losses and won the Skyline Conference in 1954.

He then moved to Iowa State.

The top player he produced at Iowa State was peppery guard Gary Thompson, an All-American in 1957 who is now with the Phillips Oilers. Iowa State, paced by Thompson, was the only team in the country to beat Kansas twice when Wilt Chamberlain was playing for the Jayhawks.

Strannigan, a guard in his player days, is a defense-minded coach.

Soccer Football Kills British Game Official

Wiltshire, England (AP)—A 64-year-old soccer club official died soon after he was struck on the head by a football, an inquest was told Monday.

The official, Frederick Davies, was hit over the right ear by a kicked ball during practice Saturday by the Handforth team. A verdict of accidental death was reached.

Legislature Passes Bill To Give Disabled Vets Break

A bill to give free fishing and hunting licenses to disabled veterans and allow them to fish and hunt from automobiles was given final approval 41-0 by the State Legislature Monday. It now goes to the Governor for signature.

The bill, LB239, introduced by John R. Cooper of Humboldt and Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, applies to Nebraska residents rated by the Veterans Administration as 50% or more disabled. It also covers those receiving pensions due to total disability and veterans of the Spanish-American War, Philippine Insurrection or the Boxer Rebellion.

The law would cover all hunting and fishing except for commercial fishing and the hunting of deer or antelope. In addition, it allows the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission to issue free permits to veterans to hunt or fish from a vehicle if they are physically unable to do it in a normal manner. This does not mean from a public highway, however.

The bill carries an emergency clause, meaning it will go into effect as soon as it is signed by Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Taussig Propels Giants

Homer In 11th Sinks Cleveland At Topeka

Topeka, Kan. (AP)—Don Taussig's two-run homer in the 11th inning gave the San Francisco Giants an 8-6 exhibition victory over the Cleveland Indians Monday.

Taussig's homer was one of 5 Giant home runs over the short left field fence. Eddie Bressoud hit his 6th and 7th homers of the spring. Danny O'Connell and Felipe Alou also contributed in the home run derby.

Minnie Minoso was the Cleveland hitting star with 4 straight safeties. His home run leading off the last of the 10th tied the score at 6-6.

Curt Barclay, 3rd Giant pitcher, was the winner, and Stu Miller, softballing right-hander, had a shutout until the 6th when the Indians scored 4 times. Jim Perry, Gary Bell and Hal Woodeshick worked for Cleveland. Woodeshick was the loser.

Tigers Belt Cards

Lakeland, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 7-2 and wound up their exhibition season with a winning record for the first time in 6 years.

The Tigers collected 13 hits, including a home run by Gail Harris as they finished with a 13-10 record. The Cards have an 8-17 mark. Chuck Essegian belted a reliever Hank Aguirre's first pitch over the left field fence for a St. Louis run in the 6th. Aguirre had replaced winner Frank Lary in the 6th.

Boxer Rips Cubs

Corpus Christi, Tex. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox slapped 4 Chicago Cub pitchers for 15 hits to register an 11-3 victory.

The triumph gave the Hose a 6-3 edge in the series with but two games remaining on the schedule.

While the Hose were tuning their bats for the opening of the American League season on Friday in New York, Ike Delock showed his arm is finally in tip-top shape.

Over the first 6 innings he held the Cubs to two hits and one run. Frank Baumann gave up the two other Chicago runs in the 9th inning on a walk to Ernie Banks and Earl Averill's pinch hit homer.

Kozeny Out At Third

Omaha University's LeRoy Kozeny is tagged out sliding into 3rd base as he tries to stretch a run-producing double into a triple in the 7th inning of the Wesleyan-Omaha game Monday. NWU 3rd baseman Dale Wharton makes the tag while Plainsmen shortstop Eldon Vergith watches in background. (Star Photo)

Nikita Might Take Up Golf

New York (AP)—If the German reports about what doctors advised Nikita Khrushchev are true, the Soviet boss should be heading for the golf course. If he does that, he is likely to shake the Soviet system to its foundations.

Golf and the Communist system are not likely to mix. There is nothing a golfer hates more than the thing which is demanded of Soviet athletes every day: criticism and self-criticism.

Any way, if Khrushchev should have to copy President Eisenhower and begin battling a white pellet about the greensward, he would have to do one of 3 things: Conquer some European territory, so he could have a golf course to play on; develop a golf course in the Soviet Union, which might cut in on his "virgin lands" program for the farmers, or resurrect the old pre-revolutionary golf course at Leningrad, then St. Petersburg.

So far as can be determined, that was the only full-fledged golf course in Russian history. It was enough almost to start a small revolution for golf. Perhaps, for the future of golf, the Russian revolution had been a good thing.

The Russians of cultivated Petersburg had terms for golf, but they were all jaw-breakers.

A driver, for example, was called a "Deleenaya Klyushka," or long club. A brassie, the No. 2 wood, was called a "Klyushka C Mednym Nako-nyechikom," or club with medium face.

The baffle, the ancestor of today's number 4 wood, strangely enough, was called simply "Klyushka," or club. An iron was a "Zheleznyaya Klyushka," or iron club.

The No. 9 iron, known to golfers the world over as a niblick, to the Russians, with their inventive minds was known as "Neebleek."

A caddy sometimes was called a "Nosilshchik," something equivalent of porter. But those in the know about what went on in the cultivated west called the boy simply "Keddie."

If Khrushchev ever could succeed in knocking a ball on the green, he would be on the "Luzhaika."

Singles, All Events Won By Damico

T.Sgt. Al Damico, Carswell AFB, Tex., mastered the Lincoln AFB bowling alleys Monday afternoon to win the singles and all events in the Second Air Force Bowling Tournament.

Sergeant Damico rolled a 649 series for the singles title and totaled 1790 pins for all events.

M.Sgt. Jack Oshman of Lincoln AFB was runnerup in the singles event with a 629 series.

T.Sgt. Francis Pahl and S.Sgt. Ken Hanselman, both of Offutt AFB, combined 586 and 582 series for 1168 to cop the doubles title. Runnersup in the event with a total 1164 pins were M.Sgt. Clarence McNeese and T.Sgt. Paul E. Tedford, both of Blytheville AFB, Ark.

The team event went to the Eastern Division of Second Air Force with a total pinfall of 2769.

Surviving the eliminations, and ready to represent the Second Air Force in the SAC Bowling Tournament to be held at Lincoln AFB April 9-10, are T.Sgt. Damico, S.Sgt. Donald Horlander, Barksdale AFB, La., S. Sgt. Oshman, T.Sgt. Tedford, Blytheville AFB, Ark., A-1c William Phillips, Little Rock AFB, Ark. and A-3c Alfredo Manno, Laughlin AFB, Tex.

Coffey Takes Sidney Post

Sidney, Neb. (AP)—Tom Coffey, 51, of Lincoln accepted the job of Sidney city manager Monday, Mayor Ferris Preble announced.

The City Council voted Friday to offer the post to Coffey, who was state purchasing agent under the Republican administration that went out of office at the beginning of this year. Coffey deferred his decision until he could confer with city department heads.

Monday afternoon, following a series of conferences, he said he was "very pleased with the personnel" and the setup of city departments.

Coffey will assume his duties here April 15, but his family will not join him until the close of the school term. One daughter is a senior in high school in Lincoln and the other attends the University of Nebraska.

Harr Resigns As Aeronautics Head, Levels Blast at Brooks' 'Indecision'

State Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr resigned Monday, charging Gov. Ralph Brooks with indecision damaging both to the Aeronautics Department and Nebraska's new air carrier service.

Further, Harr said, Brooks had "demanded that I bring about the discharge of 'Assistant Atty. Gen. Rush Clarke of North Platte. 'This demand," he said, "is unreasonable because I cannot dictate to the attorney general."

The governor accepted Harr's resignation. He suggested that the Department need not have suffered from the lack of an announcement as to what Brooks would name as director because Harr maintained the full responsibilities of office so long as he headed the Department.

Denied Request Brooks flatly denied asking for Clarke's dismissal. Harr, director for more than two years, said he would accept one of several aviation positions which have been offered to him.

Lincolnite Jack Obbink appears to be in line for appointment to Harr's $10,200 position. Harr's resignation is effective May 1.

"Your inability to reach a decision as to the director of aeronautics has damaged the Department of Aeronautics so badly that I have concluded to submit my resignation," Harr wrote Brooks.

"Up In Air" "With the entire Department up in the air until you reach a decision, the employees of the Department cannot be expected to refuse offers of permanent employment elsewhere," the bluntly worded letter continued.

"It is utterly impossible for me to employ sufficient competent replacements when I cannot assure anyone that he will remain employed.

"It is completely impossible to go ahead with our proposed air education program under existing conditions."

Harr pointed out that the state is now on trial with reference to its new air carrier service grants which have brought commercial air service to 17 communities.

"As it is now, the Department's program is at a standstill," the aeronautics chief wrote.

"We cannot employ the necessary people to carry out the program, and meanwhile critical situations continue to arise which can neither be met nor solved.

Situation Worse "Every day which passes worsens the state's position as the trial period fixed by the Civil Aeronautics Board elapses without action on the part of the state.

"If the situation continues much longer, the state will certainly lose some of the airline service which has been granted it on a trial basis."

Harr said his resignation was submitted "with deep regret." He had been with the Department 14 years.

Pointedly, he concluded, 'I leave the Department with the most sincere regret, but when one has a decision to make, I think one should make it.'

Brooks told newsmen he has no plans to replace any personnel below the rank of director. Harr was instrumental in the 7-state area airline decision which brought Nebraska new air carrier service third among the 50 states.

He termed the present as "a critical period" in assuring continued service in Nebraska. All communities are on an 18-month trial period, in terms of passenger traffic, which began in some instances on Feb. 16.

Lewellen Jail Escapee Held In Louisiana

New Orleans, La. (UPI) — A robbery charge Monday had stopped the flight of Clarence Tillman Andrew, 37, a fugitive from Nebraska peace officers since his escape from a Lewellen, Neb., jail March 14.

Police here said that Andrew, an ex-convict from Tacoma, Wash., was captured here during the weekend after the burglary of the Henry Montagnet home. They said Andrew was busily rifling clothing and personal belongings from Montagnet's residence when Montagnet returned home unexpectedly.

Andrew held up the homeowner with a toy pistol and tied him with a piece of rope. Sgt. Harry Stille said Andrew still had in his possession some identification cards belonging to Fred L. Peters of near Big Springs, Neb., and also a student pilot license in Peters' name.

City's Chances For Salt Water Purifying Plant Eyed

Chances that Lincoln might be the site for one of 5 saline water purifying experiments brightened after a visit Monday from Dr. W. S. Gilliam of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Dr. Gilliam, chief of the department of research, office of saline water, conferred with Dr. E. C. Reed, director of water research at the University of Nebraska; City Public Works Director D. L. Erickson; Dr. E. C. Jones, president of Norden Laboratories; Charles V. Price, director of the Division of the Nebraska Resources, and Arch Baley, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Price commented after the Monday visit that "while Dr. Gilliam naturally cannot commit the Interior Department on this matter, it was evident from the conference that Lincoln can supply the essential elements needed in this experiment."

"This includes not only a supply of the brackish or salty water to be purified but also an opportunity to use the purified water."

Intensive Study Soon "Shortly, an even more intensive study will be made of sites which appear to have basic advantages, and finally a panel of disinterested experts will choose the 5 locations," Dr. Gilliam explained.

"Anything which might be constructed in Lincoln would be for extracting fresh water from brackish water, as contrasted with sea water," he said.

If Lincoln could have its choice, it would probably choose the experimental plant designed to purify at least 250,000 gal. of water daily, Dr. Gilliam stated. The other brackish water plant capacity has not been specified, he said, but will probably be smaller.

250,000 Gallons In order to produce 250,000 gallons of pure water, 500,000 gallons would be put into the processing plant, Dr. Gilliam said.

Dr. Gilliam said he had been requested to inspect Lincoln by Dr. A. L. Miller of Kimball, former Congressman who recently was named director of the office of saline water by Interior Secretary Fred Seaton.

Three plants for converting sea water will be built on the East, West and Gulf Coasts, one brackish water conversion plant will be located in the Southwest and one in the "Great Northern Plains." All are authorized by federal legislation.

Find Man's Body In Missouri River Omaha (AP)—The body of an unidentified man was pulled from the Missouri River about half a mile south of the South Omaha bridge Monday.

It appeared the body had been in the water for some time. Police subsequently said that from clothing the man has been tentatively identified as Robert Billotte, 22, of Omaha. He disappeared Feb. 1 and a cab driver said he drove Billotte to the Ak-Sar-Ben bridge that night.

143 Dead Tananarive, Madagascar (AP)—Known casualties in the recent Madagascar storms and floods are 143 dead, 41 injured and 143 missing, an official report said.

Trade Discussed—The impact of international trade on United States agriculture was aired Monday at a panel dinner meeting of the Nebraska Agricultural Business Committee. Panel members included Les Sheffield of the Nebraska Wheat Commission, Harold Anderson of Omaha and Burt Evans of the University of Nebraska.

Oklahoma Votes On Repeal

... 700,000 EXPECTED AT POLLS TUESDAY

Oklahoma City (UPI) — A political battle with clergy-women rather than politicians as their principal campaigners ends Tuesday when an estimated 700,000 or more Oklahomans vote on prohibition repeal.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, who at 33 is the nation's youngest governor, promised the vote on repeal in his campaign for election last year. But the red-haired former Tulsa County prosecutor has avoided a forthright stand since then. Instead, he has limited himself to a statement praising the amendment as offering Oklahoma the strictest constitutional liquor controls in the nation. Edmondson has been the prime mover behind the "all out war" against Oklahoma's bootleg liquor traffic, a tax-free industry which wets claim has grossed 100 million dollars a year in Oklahoma.

Other Sooner political figures have, with few exceptions, avoided the fuss. The Oklahoma Legislature, attempting to ignore the whole thing, plans to meet as usual on Tuesday. It will be the first time in state history the lawmakers have convened on a statewide election day.

Classroom Teachers Take Stands On Several Issues

Delegates to the annual state convention of the Department of Classroom Teachers took firm stands on matters pertaining to teacher merit and federal aid.

James Wall of Lincoln, retiring president of the DCT outlined 4 of the important resolutions voted on by delegates at their one-day convention in Lincoln.

The group held a shortened state convention this year because of the area DCT meet held in Lincoln earlier this year and attended by more than 350 from Nebraska and more than 1,500 from the Midwest.

The teachers voted favorably on resolutions calling for:

$13,000 A Year —Salaries of at least $6,000 annually for professionally trained teachers, and $13,000 or more for teachers with 5 years of training and 15 or more years of teaching experience.

—Federal grants-in-aid for the purpose of building schools and supporting teacher salaries, as set out in the Murray-Metcalf Bill now before Congress.

—Setting maximum teacher-pupil ratios at 25 pupils per teacher actively engaged in teaching, and restricting class size to 30 pupils.

Merit Rating Hit The group also expressed opposition to a proposal that

'Automatic' Driver Alcohol Test Bill Sent To Floor Of Legislature

A bill allowing police to order blood alcohol tests of suspected drunk drivers without their specific consent was reported out to the floor of the Legislature Monday by the Public Health Committee.

The bill, LB694, was introduced by Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island at the request of Gov. Ralph Brooks. It was accepted by a 6-0 vote of the 7-member committee, with one member not voting. The vote followed a public hearing in which a dozen persons came out in favor of it and no opposition was heard.

Known as the "implied consent law," the bill provides that any person driving on a public street or highway "shall be deemed to have given his consent to submit to a chemical test of his blood or urine for the purpose of determining the amount of alcoholic content in his body fluid.

Consent Or Not

The test may be given to "any person who is unconscious or who is otherwise in a condition rendering incapable of refusal," as it is assumed he has given his permission in advance by operating a motor vehicle.

The bill provides, however, that the person arrested may choose whether the test so required shall be a chemical test of his blood or urine.

The bill gives the director of the Department of Motor Vehicles the power to suspend for one year the driver's license of any person who refuses to allow the test be administered.

Hearing Possible

Lautenschlager said a voluntary blood test is now on the law books. A person can still refuse, he said, and if a hearing before the director he can show "reasonable" cause why he refused, his license would not be revoked.

Appeal would be made before the district courts in the counties where the arrests are made.

Speaking in favor of the bill, C. S. Brubaker, assistant attorney general, said the bill would not be in violation of statutes concerning unlawful searches and seizures or due process of the law because "courts are coming around to considering driving as a privilege."

Many Appear

Also appearing for the bill were Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks; Dr. E. A. Rogers state director of health;

George Spidel, representing the Nebraska State Grange; Richard Gooding of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation; Lloyd Watt, chairman of the board of the Nebraska Temperance League; the Rev. Carroll Lemon of the Nebraska Council of Churches; William Elkin of the Preferred Risk Insurance Co.; Mrs. Lee Gilmer of the Nebraska and Lancaster County Women's Christian Temperance Unions; the Rev. Dawson J. Park of Aurora, a Methodist pastor; and Cash Baird, a farmer from Archer.

In other action, the committee amended and sent to the floor LB588, a bill hailed as a device to help assure that children will not be sent to the Beatrice home for feeble minded who don't belong there.

The bill was amended to remove the power of the director of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute at Omaha to refuse to receive any person he may deem not in need of mental care.

Introduced by Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln and Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota

Constitutional Convention Measure Gets Brooks Backing At Hearing

By Don Walton

A bill calling for a vote of the people on a constitutional convention and a measure broadening access to public records prompted testimony Monday which took the bulk of more than 4 hours of public hearing.

Two other bills were also heard by members of the Judiciary Committee in the marathon session.

No action was taken on the measures.

Gov. Ralph Brooks testified in behalf of Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme's LB606, providing for a constitutional convention vote by the people in 1960.

42 Amendments

The governor noted that 42 constitutional amendments have been submitted to Nebraska voters to revise the constitution since it was last rewritten in 1920. Twenty-seven amendments were approved.

"Can we seriously consider this is the way to bring state government in step?" Brooks asked.

Among provisions which the governor suggested might be enacted by a convention would be provision for a stronger executive with a gubernatorial term of 4 years.

Brooks also suggested a short ballot with fewer elected and more appointed state officials is in order.

Urges Streamlining

State government, the governor testified, could be streamlined in many ways. As an example he cited the need for one director of finance to correlate financial duties now handled by the state treasurer, state auditor and tax commissioner.

Urging the committee to report LB606 to the floor of the Legislature, Brooks requested that the measure be given the opportunity for "complete consideration, and comprehensive discussion and debate on the floor."

Sen. Orme, Lincoln legislator, told the committee, "we can't afford to put it off any longer."

Earliest 1961

If the Legislature were to approve a vote and if the people okayed the matter in 1960, she noted, the earliest a convention could be held is December, 1961.

To offset cost of the convention, which at a minimum will exceed $100,000, Sen. Orme pointed out, submission of amendments since 1924 has cost a sum of $421,696.

Former Sen. Earl Lee of Fremont and Lincolnite W. G. Lewis, a delegate to the 1920 constitutional convention, also supported the bill.

Testifying in opposition was O. D. Menefee of Omaha, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

"Do the people as a whole have any voice other than the election of delegates?" he asked. Menefee expressed fear that lack of rules left the convention "wide open."

2 Firemen Bills Sent To Floor

The Government Committee advanced two minor bills dealing with firemen Monday and held one other measure.

Advanced by unanimous votes were LB's 572 and 573.

LB572 would require cities and villages to pay the expenses of one fireman from each company designated to attend a state fire department training school.

LB573 would exempt retired volunteer firemen from jury duty.

Held was LB579 sponsored by Sen. Joe Vosoba of Wilber which would require names of signers of documents registered with county clerks and registers of deeds to be typewritten below the signature. The bill was held pending addition of a penalty provision.

Urging the committee to report LB606 to the floor of the Legislature, Brooks requested that the measure be given the opportunity for "complete consideration, and comprehensive discussion and debate on the floor."

Sen. Orme, Lincoln legislator, told the committee, "we can't afford to put it off any longer."

Should doctors be sued for malpractice?

In The Saturday Evening Post this week, you'll read about the shocking malpractice suits that are costing doctors and hospitals $50,000,000 a year. You'll learn how the medical world is fighting back, and find out:

- how a mother who claimed her son was "afflicted by strange sex urges" after a hormone injection is suing for $1,000,000.
- about the appalling mistake in Illinois when a limb was amputated from the wrong patient.
- how some juries grant huge awards because they "feel sorry" for the patient.
- why doctors are afraid they'll be found guilty—even when there's been no negligence.

Here are dozens of true, terrifying case histories. Be sure to read "Medicine's Legal Nightmare."
